WAR PERIL OVER HONGKONG—The threat of invasion is felt in Hongkong. Women and children have been dispatched to comparative security in Australia and Manila. Here workmen bolster Supreme Court building walls against imminent air attacks.

60 Planes Battle Over Thames Thrilled Crowds Desert Shelters to Watch

LONDON (CP)—A furious air battle which involved 60 planes was fought over the Thames estuary today when Germans attacked a merchant convoy. Six of the German planes engaged in the attack were shot into the sea and three others were shot down in raids over the northwest and southwest coast and southeast Scotland—nine in all. One of the Nazis crashed in the middle of a road near some cottages. Another was forced to land in a grainfield.

The Air Ministry said four were shot down in the southeast; one by fighters and one by anti-aircraft. Inland sources report a sixth plane was forced into the sea in a subsequent chase.

Watchers Forget Danger From Bullets

A witness of the Thames battle said "planes seemed to be coming in from all directions. There were 50 or 60 at one time and as they whirled around it was difficult to distinguish British from German. It was so thrilling crowds of watchers forgot their own danger from flying bullets and stood peering into the sky."

The Ministry of Home Security published few details. An evening communique said merely: "This afternoon enemy aircraft dropped bombs on a town in the southeast of England, causing slight damage and a few casualties."

"Early today some bombs were dropped by enemy aircraft in a district in the southwest of Scotland. Little damage was done and no one was seriously injured."

The pilot of the plane which nosedived into the street was killed when his parachute broke. The other pilot was seriously injured by machine gun bullets.

One raider dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs on a southwest Scotland area, damaging buildings.

An 86-year-old woman was wounded in the arm by a machine-gun bullet when a raider flew over a hospital on the outskirts of a northeast England town.

A third raider was brought down in southwest England. One of the crew was killed, one wounded and the other two were taken prisoner.

Bomber Bagged Off Scotland

Reports that a bomber was brought down by fighter planes in the night off the southeast coast of Scotland and another downed by anti-aircraft fire off northwest England raised the total to five.

A steamship was attacked by raiders this morning off the southeast coast, other ships were standing by.

The German High Command in a communique claimed "German fighting planes had annihilated an English convoy of five commercial vessels with total tonnage of 17,000 registered tons; in addition, a commercial vessel of 4,000 registered tons was set afire."

"A U-boat shot two armed merchant ships, of a total tonnage of 14,000, out of a heavily-armed convoy and sank them," the German high command said.

"Because of the unfavorable weather, the activity of the air force was limited. In Southern England several rail lines and roads as well as reserve barracks were bombed."

"In the course of armed reconnaissance over the Channel and off the English south coast, our planes bombed and sank two patrol boats and one minesweeper and damaged another ship. In the North Sea, one of our fighters succeeded in sinking a submarine."

R.A.F. Attack German Centres

The Germans reported that last night "British planes dropped bombs over various points in north and west Germany without much effect. Our night hunters shot down two enemy planes and our anti-aircraft one. One of our own planes is missing."

The British Air Ministry countered the German report with a communique reporting "widespread British counter-attacks on German or German-held territory, bombed targets last night including aircraft factories at Gotha, Kassel and Wenzendorf, oil depots at Hamburg and Gelsenkirchen and railways, anti-aircraft batteries and air-dromes elsewhere in Germany and the Netherlands."

"British bombers also attacked patrol boats in Dunkerque harbor, France, yesterday afternoon and oil tanks at Flushing, the Netherlands, and docks at Amsterdam, during the night. One British plane failed to return and two German planes were reported shot down."

Guatemala's Claim Before Americas

British Honduras Highlights Conference

HAVANA (AP)—Guatemala was understood today to be preparing an amendment to eliminate British Honduras from the joint trusteeship for European possessions in the western hemisphere which has been proposed to the Pan-American Conference by the United States.

Guatemala long has had claims against Britain for British Honduras, and was understood to be preparing to insist that her claims be honored in any future change in the colony's sovereignty.

It was understood this afternoon the Cuban delegation had a plan to present to the economic committee which would call for the refunding and liquidation of all her debts in the United States. These amount to $200,000,000.

Other problems were discussed before the neutrality committee by the delegates in secret session.

TO ADJOURN JULY 30

The delegates planned this afternoon to conclude the conference July 30, unless some emergency arises. Rio de Janeiro was considered a certain choice for their next meeting.

Already in the hands of commissions were the United States' suggestions of colonial mandates and economic co-operation. Other proposals, including methods of dealing with fifth-column activities, were expected to be offered for preliminary study before the end of tonight's session.

The commission on maintenance of peace, headed by State

REPUBLICS OF AMERICAS OPEN MEET—At Havana, President Frederico Laredo Bru of Cuba addressed delegates to the conference of 21 American republics, a conference featured with advocacy by the United States of a joint trusteeship for any European colonies in the new world threatened with transfer to unfriendly powers. (Acme Telephoto.)

Secretary Cordell Hull, had before it the United States proposal to set up "collective trusteeships" over western hemisphere colonies of European nations in the event of any attempt by another non-American state to acquire them. The first draft of this resolution provides such a joint mandate would be shared only by ratifying republics and would operate when any nation should report its security threatened.

COMMISSION OF THREE

A committee including one representative from each ratifying nation would exercise the trusteeship but would vest authority in a commission, including one member from each of three countries selected on geographic, economic and strategic considerations.

The general committee would determine whatever military or naval assistance was needed. The neutrality commission, expected to receive a sub-committee's report co-ordinating resolutions affecting inter-American neutrality.

These resolutions, submitted by the inter-American neutrality commission which has been working in Rio de Janeiro since the Pan-American meeting of last October, were said to involve treatment of belligerent submarines and auxiliary ships operating in American waters, internment of belligerent vessels and communications between belligerents.

Chilton was convicted yesterday on a charge under the Defence of Canada Regulations, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

"In considering this case I must bear in mind there were two witnesses who heard these statements, including one you had never met. In the course of your duties (as floor manager of the Hong Kong Cafe, you meet many soldiers and sailors, and I find you made such statements to someone you had never seen before," the magistrate said.

"While you do not recall making the statements, there is no disclaimer on your part. In addition the statement of the defence as to the condition of the soldier who gave evidence having a red face because of drink is not warranted. From my observations the man appeared sunburned through the performance of his duties. In addition there was an attack on the R.C.M. Police officers, which I consider unwarranted. I treat these matters seriously and sentence you to three months."

Chilton was convicted after making statements in a hotel room where he was drinking with a soldier of the infantry and a naval officer, the latter being in civilian clothes.

Fire in Barracks

MONTREAL (AP)—Barracks of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) were damaged slightly today by fire which broke out in the boiler room of the building.

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

DELAY
Indications were seen today that Hitler's attempt to send an invading force across the English Channel may be delayed further while Axis diplomats seek to insure that he will have no trouble at Germany's back door.

Germany will play host Friday to representatives of Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania, but to the Rumanians the invitation looked much like that from the spider to the fly.

In return for Germany's protection, it appeared likely, Rumania would have to surrender Transylvania to Hungary and southern Dobruja to Bulgaria.

JITTERY
On the war front jittery Italian anti-aircraft gunners let loose a shower of metal on their own citizens in Rome, responding to an alarm, apparently false, that British raiders were going over the city. Numerous persons were hurt.

In Britain the Royal Air Force and ground defences beat back Nazi air force attacks in a succession of fights that saw seven Germans downed for the day.

OFFSET
The public in Britain, facing an income tax of 42½ per cent, biggest in history, was cheered by expert estimates that Germany has lost between 4,000 and 5,000 aircraft since the war started, and that in the last five weeks of intensified air activity Nazi losses have been 133 machines to 91 for the Royal Air Force.

The figures, it was explained, take no account of the number of enemy planes destroyed on the ground as British fighters raided airports on the continent.

CATCHING UP
Experts said also Britain's sky fleet was being expanded at a rate comparable to that of the Germans, but they explained the British planes and those bought in the United States are of superior quality and more durable.

Germany, they believed, has increased its total number of planes since the war started, but Britain now definitely is catching up.

PILOTS
It is believed the mortality among German pilots and other crew members is considerably above that of the British, partly because of rush training methods. If the Germans have lost 4,000 planes they probably have lost around 15,000 crew members. This means speeding up training, something the British refuse to do unduly.

It is the British contention that too hasty training is wasteful, as it results in increased accidents and does not produce crews possessing the fighting qualities of

Final Bulletins

3,000 Planes A Month From U.S. for Britain

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aviation Production, declared in a broadcast tonight that the United States will approve a production plan to supply Great Britain with 3,000 planes a month.

Beaverbrook said Britain had purchased 12,115 airplane engines from the United States since his ministry was formed May 14. "It is our purpose by every means we can develop and every device we can adopt to give our air force bigger and better advantages when we come to grips with the enemy," he said.

He added Britain's own aircraft production had reached a record production last week, and that the output so far for this month was double that of the same period a year ago.

Actor to Serve

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Richard Greene's studio announced this afternoon the 23-year-old English actor would leave Sunday for Vancouver, B.C., to enlist in the Canadian army. He has played during his 2½-year Hollywood stay in "Kentucky," "Stanley and Livingstone," "Little Old New York" and "I Was an Adventuress." His mother, Mrs. Kathleen Gerrard, is engaged in war relief work in Victoria.

Mayor Arrested

HULL, Que. (CP)—Mayor Rodolphe Moreau of nearby Gaiter Point was arrested today by Quebec Provincial Police on eight counts of theft.

20 Barns Wrecked

REGINA (CP)—At least 20 barns were reported destroyed in rural districts of southern Saskatchewan today by a wind of cyclonic proportions. Crops were damaged and telephone poles were snapped off like match sticks. Communication lines were down in a number of districts.

Reports this afternoon said heaviest damage was done in the vicinity of Yellowknife, 75 miles south of here. Rain fell between Weyburn and Estevan.

the men who know their jobs thoroughly.

R.A.F. planes almost always reach their objectives and return on their mission. The German air force, ever since it started raiding Britain, has adopted hit-and-run tactics, resulting in poor aim and waste of large quantities of ammunition.

Wheat Payment Stays at 70 Cents

OTTAWA (CP)—The initial payment of 70 cents a bushel for No. 1 northern wheat, basis Fort William, will be continued for the crop year starting next August 1, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced in the Commons late this afternoon.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange will remain open at least for the present. Present cash wheat and futures pegged prices will be continued "at or about the present levels."

The minister also announced that wheat growers would be permitted to deliver their entire crops to the board this year, instead of being limited to 5,000 bushels as under the 1939 act.

12 NAZIS DOWNED

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry said tonight that four German planes had been shot down by Royal Air Force fighters today in addition to the eight already announced officially. Two British planes were lost.

Room for Objectors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Sheppard (Democrat, Texas) said this afternoon the United States Senate military committee had virtually agreed to exempt "conscientious objectors" from combat training under the compulsory military training bill now before Congress.

New Legations

MELBOURNE (CP-Reuters)—An exchange of diplomatic representatives between Australia and Japan is expected to be announced shortly.

The exchange would be "very desirable," said John McEwen, Minister of External Affairs.

Watching Colonies

VICHY, France (AP)—A semi-official source said tonight that the French government intends to maintain "the ties that unite the French colonies to the mother country."

The observation was made after publication of the United States proposal to the Pan-American Conference at Havana that an inter-American mandate be established over the European possessions in the western hemisphere.

Nazis Hold Empain

ALEXANDRIA (AP)—Friends of Baron Jean Empain of Belgium, one of the world's wealthiest men, said tonight they had received word he was wounded while fighting in Belgium and now is held as a prisoner of war by the Germans in Brussels.

HEADS—BRITISH DEFENCE—Lieut. General Sir Alan Brooke, above, the new Commander-in-Chief of Britain's Home Forces, is commander of the "Widened" cause of his knowledge of mechanized warfare. Gen. Brooke, who led B.E.F.'s 2nd Corps in Belgium, replaces Sir Edmund Ironside.

Japanese Suggest Newspapermen Keep Cool

SHANGHAI (AP)—A Japanese embassy spokesman today described a series of incidents involving United States citizens since July 7 as "an unfortunate coincidence from which it cannot be concluded that Japan is adopting an anti-American attitude."

Declaring at a press conference that "it is the duty of newspapermen to keep calm and cool," he said telegrams sent to President Roosevelt yesterday by five American newsmen—who urged retaliatory acts against Japan unless Tokyo acted to restrain Japanese elements in Shanghai—gave a false impression that anti-American sentiment was growing among Japanese.

CANADIAN TROOPS AT GIBRALTAR?

LA LINEA, Spain (AP)—Canadian and Australian reinforcements disembarked from military transports today at Gibraltar.

Transports also brought foodstuffs and war supplies of all kinds—anti-aircraft guns, planes, light and heavy artillery.

CANADA COLLEGE TAKING REFUGEES

Upper Canada College—the oldest private school in the Dominion—was helping in the evacuation of children from Great Britain by taking a number of guest children, A. G. A. Stephen, headmaster of the preparatory school of the college, told members of the Old Boys' Association at a meeting in the Empress Hotel last night.

Even before the movement of British children, the college had taken students from Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Norway, Holland and France, who had been sent by their parents before Germany had marched into their countries.

A great many old boys of the school were on active service and many of them had won distinction, Mr. Stephen said. Eight masters were on active service and five more were on call.

The college, now 111 years old, had an enrolment of 600 at the present. Four hundred of the total enrolment were in the upper house and 200 in the preparatory school.

Dr. H. B. King, chief inspector of schools in British Columbia, said that exchange of students between one part of Canada and the other would be an excellent thing. By this means the young people of the Dominion could be brought to understand one another better, he said.

Upper Canada College, which throughout its history had been closely associated with the public system though administered privately, was an ideal institution for fusing of all sections in the Dominion, Dr. King said.

G. Hamilton Harman, vice-president of the association, was in the chair. Others present included Wing Commander H. G. Reid, W. L. Seavey, Colonel A. W. R. Wilby, Hugh Peters, R. F. Hinton, F. J. McIntosh, E. K. De Beck, Alex. McCallum, Colonel Eric Pepler, Lieutenant A. D. Morris and W. A. Patterson.

Italians Claim More Victories

ROME (AP)—The text of the communiqué issued today by the Italian high command:

"Our submarines in the eastern Mediterranean have sunk an Australian destroyer and a submarine."

"One of our formations bombed a gasoline depot at the Malta naval base. Despite the enemy's violent anti-aircraft reaction, objectives were hit squarely, causing numerous fires."

"In North Africa two enemy fighting planes of the Gloucester type have been shot down in an air fight with losses on our part."

"During the night hours of July 23-24, following an alarm based on reports from Gaeta, anti-aircraft batteries of Rome went into action twice, firing barrages. No bombs were dropped. Several persons were injured by shell fragments."

Fans Greet Mickey

VANCOUVER (CP)—A roaring throng of fans greeted Mickey Rooney, famed young Hollywood star, as he stepped off the steamer from Victoria here yesterday evening, en route to Banff and Lake Louise for a short holiday.

Expressing hopes for a "real Canadian holiday" he boarded an evening train for the Alberta resorts after a brief 45 minutes here.

Vanier Sees Troops

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Lieut.-Col. G. P. Vanier, Canadian Minister to France, paid a surprise visit today to a famous Quebec regiment with which he served in the last war and later commanded.

He complimented all ranks on their smart appearance and expressed confidence that they would uphold the unit's distinguished record.

Curfew in England

LONDON (CP)—A strict curfew was ordered today for British subjects of known Fascist sympathies living in the London area. They are required to remain indoors between midnight and 6 a.m., and forbidden to travel more than five miles from home without official permission.

Leaflets for French

LONDON (CP)—The practice of dropping leaflets over France to convey to the French people the "real facts of the situation" will be continued and extended, Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, informed the House of Commons today.

Man and Wife Drown

BELLEVEILLE, Ont. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rumieski of Bancroft, Ont., were drowned in York River near here yesterday when Rumieski got into difficulties swimming alone and his wife jumped in with her clothes on to assist him.

Will Pay Volunteers

LONDON (CP)—The British government is arranging to pay the French volunteers under Gen. Charles de Gaulle, as well as the Poles and Czechs in arms here against Germany.

Sir Edward Glegg, Under-Secretary for War, told a questioner in the House of Commons today rates of pay were still to be decided. The Norwegian, Netherlands and Belgian governments are paying their soldiers themselves, he said.

German Ship Hit, Speed Boats Chased

LONDON (CP)—An Admiralty communiqué said:

"A German auxiliary vessel with a naval escort was located in the eastern part of the North Sea last night. In the early hours of this morning this force was attacked with torpedoes by Swordfish (torpedo carrying planes) aircraft of the fleet air arm."

"One of the German naval units, an escort vessel of the Konigin Luise type, was hit by a torpedo. All our aircraft returned."

A second Admiralty communiqué tonight said:

"In the course of a patrol carried out in the English Channel in the early hours of this morning one of our motor torpedo boats sighted and engaged six enemy motor torpedo boats. The enemy made off at high speed, but before they escaped in the darkness one enemy boat and its searchlight were put out of action, and it is thought that casualties were inflicted in another."

"Our motorboat received no damage or casualties."

Colleoni Captain Dies

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Capt. Umberto Navaro, commander of the Italian cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni, sunk by the Australian cruiser Sydney and British destroyers last Friday off Crete, died of wounds today aboard a British hospital ship. He will be accorded full naval honors at a funeral today.

Hanson to Carry On

OTTAWA (CP)—A caucus of Conservative members of Parliament today voted confidence in their leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, who accepted an invitation to carry on for another session of Parliament.

It also was decided not to hold a Dominion convention of the party to choose a new party leader to succeed Hon. R. B. Hanson until the autumn of 1941 at the earliest.

BOMB DEATH RATE

LONDON (CP)—Every German bomb dropped in boroughs has killed or injured three persons, Health Minister Malcolm MacDonald told a luncheon meeting today. He said that it is actually 15 times safer to be in a reception area than in an evacuation district.

In the open country every German bomb dropped killed 1 of a hen and a pig, .01 of a sheep, .006 of a cow and .0007 of a rabbit.

Britain's Answer

LONDON (CP)—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the Overseas League today the answer of the people of the British Commonwealth to the Hitler peace bid was to prepare more insistently than ever to secure victory.

"The lion doesn't merely go out to defend its young—the cubs come home with great strength to defend the parent," the First Lord said.

Too Slight to Mention

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative quarters, commenting on a German claim that Nazi bombers "hit important rail and road objectives in England," said today:

"German raids over the 24 hours in question were so slight that British authorities found it unnecessary to issue any communiqué."

"Shiny Nose" Budget

New Taxes Hit
At All Classes
In Britain

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON (CP)—The new budget was described today as the most sweeping in the history of Britain. It will affect every household in the land. "Shiny nose and shiny trousers budget" was how it was described by a London wholesaler.The 33½ per cent sales tax on the wholesale value of luxuries and 16½ per cent figure on necessities such as clothes, shoes and books, with children's clothes and shoes exempted, have not yet gone into effect. Wholesalers and retailers anticipate an attempt at a buying rush before the leap in prices.While stocks are plentiful, a buying wave is not desired and the London Daily Mail said it understood the government would take steps to stop the rush if it comes.

CLOTHES PRICES

A fashion trade official said he believed a revolution of women's fashions will result from the sales tax. He said dressmakers certainly will try to meet the situation by producing clothes at a lower cost.A stenographer offered the opinion that many women will wear lisle stockings to work and silk on special occasions. Many already wear no stockings at their housework and the habit probably will spread, as will the wearing of slacks.The man's budget also is affected. His cigarettes and tobacco will go up and his beer will cost a penny more a pint. A £3 ($13.35) suit will cost £3 7s, and guinea shoes will cost 23s 6d.
Higher-priced goods will rise proportionately.

PRESS VIEWS

In newspapers today there was some criticism of the budget on the grounds that it does not go far enough to raise money by taxes, leaving too large a portion to be obtained from borrowing.The London Daily Mail said:
"The method of financing the war is far from satisfactory. At the moment the country is spending £220,000,000 more than it receives in revenue. Against this Sir Kingsley Wood (Chancellor of the Exchequer) proposed to raise £230,000,000 (for a full year). We must expect more burdens."The paper said the government should intervene if a buying rush develops to escape the sales tax.The News Chronicle called the budget "timid and tinkering"— not in the sense that it lacked severity on those whom it will reach, but in the sense that it failed to adjust the machinery of taxation to new wartime distribution of the nation's income."The Times of London said it is "another interim budget" and it "remains to be seen whether the dose is strong enough" to achieve the Chancellor's economic objective: "Diversion of purchasing power away from commodities."The Times declared there is "a good augury for the future" in the fact that the Commons
"were nearly ready to applaud something more imaginative and drastic."Under the heading "Too Timid," the London Daily Herald said:"The new direct taxes let off the rich comparatively lightly. After all these arduous efforts we are to get an extra revenue of £126,000,000 (for the balance of the present year)—the price of a fortnight's war.""This leaves the prospective deficit to be borrowed at well

"Hello There, Little Man"

Business Asks
Insurance DelayOTTAWA (CP)—The special Commons committee considering the government's unemployment insurance bill today heard Hugh H. Wolfenden, an actuary, the third day of hearings on the bill Labor Minister McLarty introduced last week in Parliament.Mr. Wolfenden worked on the Bennett unemployment insurance measure of 1935, later declared to be unconstitutional because it invaded fields of provincial jurisdiction.

PENSIONERS INCLUDED

It was decided to strike from the new bill a provision which would have prevented those in receipt of old age pensions from coming under benefits of the act, which calls for the government, employers and employers to contribute to a fund from which participating workers when they become unemployed.Yesterday the committee also heard representatives of big business and labor. Big business was for postponing enactment and labor welcomed the bill, suggesting a few amendments.Norman J. Davies, chairman of the executive sub-committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told the committee it was difficult "for the executive of the chamber to believe the bill was a suitable wartime measure."The bill provides the government, bearing cost of administering the plan, would also contribute a fifth of the total of the insurance fund. Employers and employees would contribute the balance in about equal shares.Mr. Davies suggested that business had not had adequate time to study the measure, and therefore it might be better to have a special labor department committee set up to investigate the whole matter as well as the advantages of alternative schemes.

LABOR VIEWS

Tom Moore, representing the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said that for 30 years during booms and depressions
"we have been searching for an opportunity time" to establish unemployment insurance. He considered the present time opportune.The Trades and Labor Congress did not at the present time press any extensive amendments to the bill because it was hoped the advisory committee set up under the bill would at once explore the possibility of bringing other workers than those already subject to its provisions under its jurisdiction.

WOULD RAISE LIMIT

Mr. Moore advocated raising the wage ceiling of $2,000-a-year for participating contributors to $2,500.Rev. Norman Dowd, secretary of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, said the congress was giving the bill general endorsement, and suggested several amendments broadening its scope.Charles Millard, secretary of the Canadian Congress of Industrial Organizations, said it was
"of the utmost importance there should be no further delay in enactment of the bill." He also favored expansion of its scope to embrace classes of workers now exempt.

MERCHANTS APPROVE

George S. Hougham, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, said the association approved of unemployment insurance in principle.He said it should be within the power of the commission to be appointed to exempt certain classes from the provisions of the bill.

Western Writer Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bertha
Muzzy Bower, 68, who as B. M.
Bower wrote "Chip of the Flying U" and half a hundred other western novels of some 5,000,000 words, died at the home of a daughter here yesterday.As the young mother of three growing children, Mrs. Bower began writing western fiction in 1904. Two years later "Chip" was published, to be followed by a flood of novels that met instant popularity.Born in Cleveland, Minn., she lized upon later in her western day Evening Post, will be debated in the Senate.The subject came up last night when Senator A. K. Huggessen, Liberal, Quebec, said he wished to refer to a recent speech by Conservative Leader Meighen.Senator Meighen rose to a point of order, but said that if Senator Huggessen would give proper notice of motion he was prepared to debate.Senator Huggessen contended he was speaking on a matter of importance inasmuch as the Conservative leader had made "a deliberate and savage attack on a half of Denmark's cattle, pigs and poultry are being slaughtered for German use and that "fifth col-

sabotage the American Red Cross' drive for funds for European relief work.If the reports from Denmark are true, the President said at a press conference, it naturally would be a serious thing for the Danish people.He said the Red Cross had advised him that somewhat vague letters from all over the United States showed evidence of a rumor that relief supplies in Europe were reaching German and Italian military hands.Mr. Roosevelt labeled this rumor completely and utterly unfounded.As for prospects of "mass starvation" in Europe this winter, the President said there was general talk about it, but definite facts

Help Win WarBy HAROLD FAIR
LONDON (CP)—A rag, a bone or an old tin can—all are demanded for Britain's mighty war effort. The country is borrowing a leaf from the dictators' system of economic self-sufficiency.Here, however, the campaign against waste by saving and salvaging is not dictated by poverty of resources. Britain wants to produce as much food and recover every bit of scrap so valuable shipping space may be reserved for essential war materials and foreign exchange be conserved to buy it.In this country you don't toss away that silver paper from a pack of cigarettes. The old iron sink or bedstead in some dark basement corner has definite scrap value. A regiment of women, called "Salvage Sallies," has been recruited to tell the housewife what to save.The "dig-for-victory" campaign brought results in thousands of vacant lots turned into small gardens, and now a "low heels for victory" appeal to women appears destined for success. The higher the heels the greater the amount of wood and leather required. Timber is scarce now in wartime Britain, and one timber-control official estimated 50,000 tons of wood a year are used for women's shoe heels.The Ministry of Supply has mobilized every one of the 10,000 parishes in Britain to provide scrap metal. The scrap includes tins and metal refuse ordinarily thrown into quarries or gravel pits. Money from disposal of the waste goes to the Red Cross Agricultural Committee.Students in Liverpool go from doors to door as rag-and-bone merchants. Birmingham offers its garbage men a bonus of 1s 3d
a hundredweight for wastepaper.

Our Volunteer Defence

ANOTHER THREAT OF BLITZKRIEG from another potential enemy of the British Empire is another reason why the plan of provincial civilian preparedness urged recently in Ottawa on the Dominion government by Hon. Gordon Wismer, British Columbia's Attorney-General, should be adopted without further delay. What is suggested is a volunteer defence force, identical with that firmly established in the United Kingdom, composed of men of intelligence and resourcefulness, former members of the old Canadian Expeditionary Force and the Imperial Army, sportsmen familiar with the use of various types of firearms, men who desire to learn to shoot and are willing voluntarily to submit to military organization and leadership in case of emergency.

Since he first took steps to launch this auxiliary service in collaboration with veterans' organizations and in consultation with the Dominion authorities, Mr. Wismer has received the most encouraging assurances of co-operation. These have come from men in all walks of life who are too old for active service in the generally accepted sense of the term, but who feel fully capable of rendering a good account of themselves on the home front under circumstances easier to imagine than to define specifically. The basis on which the Attorney-General is working includes the following procedure:

1. All firearms in possession of private persons throughout the province to be surrendered to the police on a date to be set by governmental decree; these will be returned to their owners on registration with appropriate conditions of retention.
2. Authority will be taken to search private premises thought to contain firearms or other material as may come within the category of arms or munitions under manifold laws.
3. Arrangements will be made to purchase such additional weapons as may be considered advisable or necessary to equip the organization for efficient service.

It will naturally be realized that specific details of this volunteer defence force will demand careful and expert consideration in all particulars. The point Mr. Wismer very properly emphasizes, however, is that it is merely begging trouble to leave this method of defending the vital home front in British Columbia solely to the regular military forces—now busily engaged in training under the general scheme of national defence and for service in external theatres of war. Thus the Attorney-General's primary aim is the establishment throughout this vast province of community groups, systematically organized on well-defined principles, which can be called upon immediately to deal with every type of "Fifth Column" disturbance that might well follow invasion.

There is nothing in Mr. Wismer's practical proposal to the Dominion government which savors of alarmism. On the contrary, it is a plan to anticipate events—and the history of Europe in the last few months warns us to be surprised at nothing—instead of permitting events to catch us unprepared. It is our opinion, moreover, that the Attorney-General will not have to wait long after he has completed his arrangement with the authorities at Ottawa for a whole-hearted response from all loyal British Columbians anxious to be of use. And if there are any skeptics as to its urgent necessity, we may remind them that in this province at the present time there are considerably less than 100 uniformed officers and men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, less than 500 officers and men of the British Columbia Police, while our population of approximately 800,000 is leavened with something like 75,000 aliens who might, on occasion, be ready tools in the hands of active "Fifth Columnists."

Harnessing Willing Service

AFTER FORMER PRIME MINISTER Chamberlain had spoken to the United States and had described how the enemy would be fought "on every road, in every village, and in every house," the Manchester Guardian, not in carping criticism but in concern, asked how such fighting would be conducted "with pitchforks and frying-pans?" The great British daily pointed out that the Churchill government "has all our trust and good will, yet from one end of the country to the other there are doubt and misgiving whether our defence preparations against invasion are being pushed rapidly enough, whether their organization is broad enough based, and whether we are properly utilizing the willing service of the people." It then cited the statement of Mr. Harold Nicolson of the Ministry of Information, who had said he doubted whether the mass of the people of the country "even yet understand the implications of total warfare." The Guardian remarked on both his and Mr. Chamberlain's remarks as follows:

"It did not occur to either of them that perhaps the people understand the implications rather better than their rulers suppose and that because they do they are dissatisfied with the leadership given them."

The Guardian's observations will serve to emphasize the importance of Hon. Gordon Wismer's proposal for a civilian volunteer defence force for British Columbia.

Another Answer to Adolf

PREDOMINANT AMONG THE COM-ments on the new and interim budget introduced in the British House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood yesterday is the one which describes it as "not stiff enough." And The Times of London, evidently voices the popular doubt that the "dose" may not prove sufficiently strong to meet pressing bills or to discourage emphatically enough the inclination of consumers to purchase nonessential commodities. This latest demand of the Chancellor for money, incidentally, approximates one-third of Britain's national debt before the outbreak of the first Great War—and it is safe to predict that another call will be made on the pocketbooks of the people before the present conflict is much older.

We off this side of the Atlantic feel that Mr. Ralston allowed his hand to drop heavily on our Canadian pay cheques; but when we consider the Briton's income tax at 86 in the pound, an increase of a shilling since the ordinary budget of last April, we may be speaking in whispers lest the new Minister of Finance at Ottawa should think up another quick way of attaching our dollars and cents. The view that Sir Kingsley Wood has been too lenient in his demand, however, is another popular answer to Adolf Hitler's "final appeal to reason"—and is even more eloquent than the one Mr. Churchill gave before the Reichstag last week, or that which Lord Halifax voiced to the Empire and the United States on Monday.

Cat and Mouse Play

GERMANY'S FRANTIC EFFORTS TO IN-sure peace for the time being, at any rate—in the Balkan countries indicate, that Adolf Hitler and his cohorts in Berlin are neither sure about the plans in the back of Josef Stalin's mind nor anything like so confident of the success of the much-vaunted Blitzkrieg on Britain as they appeared to be after the complete collapse of France. Rumania is between the deep blue sea of Soviet Russia's unblinking designs in southeastern Europe and the devilish axis plots to persuade Rumania to disgorge further territory to keep Hungary and Bulgaria from emulating Moscow's Bessarabian technique in Transylvania and the Dobruja. Obviously are these days of perplexity for King Carol; he is now faced with the consequences of playing fast and loose with those countries which had manifested a desire—not, perhaps, altogether altruistically—to be friendly disposed toward him.

He would be foolish, of course, who would predict that the Soviet government intends to continue to rock the boat merely because such a procedure might indirectly keep Germany on tenterhooks and, incidentally, serve Britain's purpose. But it is becoming clearer all the time, on the other hand, that M. Stalin's recent moves in the Baltic, his new demand for complete Finnish demobilization, owe their origin and prosecution solely to Moscow's determination not to be outwitted or "strategically stymied" by the head of the government in Berlin—whose "Mein Kampf" castigation of Communism and its author's opinion of those who subscribe to the "red" philosophy still remain to taunt the former Georgian peasant who rules 165,000,000 Russians. And Stalin has not forgotten the implications of the "marriage of convenience" solemnized in Moscow nearly a year ago between Von Ribbentrop and Molotov.

Best thing about a heat wave is the weather report saying it's about to be broken. Never mind the debt. Never mind taxes. Never mind sacrifices. Nothing matters now but doing the job.

Now arises the battle over who told the story of the Trojan horse—Homer or Virgil. Neither, however, dreamed it would go to the post so many times.

The whole secret of the Nazi blitzkrieg, a literary agent points out, was revealed in "The Art of Modern Warfare" by Col. Hermann Foersch of the German General Staff, published in Germany early in 1939, and available to any purchaser. If our army heads read it, they must have suspected it just more Nazi propaganda.

FOR A STRONGER CANADIAN NAVY

From Ottawa Citizen
Canadian navymen may be used to man some of the French warships taken over by the British Navy. There are 90 officers and men available from H.M.C.S. Fraser, the Canadian destroyer recently lost in collision off Bordeaux. They want to continue to serve together under the same commander. They could doubtless take over one of the French destroyers as shipmates with some of the French navymen who have volunteered to serve with the British navy. Canada could well enlist the stalwart French allies who have refused to submit to Germany.

The Canadian Naval Service is making progress with the training of a naval volunteer reserve. British Admiralty officials are reported to be impressed with the keenness of Canadian reserve officers to get into service on some of the French ships lately annexed to the British Navy.

It may well be that the transference of French battleships, battlecruisers, light cruisers, destroyers, submarines, minesweepers, aircraft carriers, with smaller ships for patrol purposes, to the British flag has providentially made it possible for Canada to have a strong navy in keeping with Canada's position as a maritime nation.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PRISONER

NOW THAT THE GREAT DEBATE of the American election is getting under way, you need not expect to hear much more plain speaking. The great flaw in our democratic system (it is much worse under any other) is that when a man is nominated for a position like President of the United States, he becomes the prisoner of the people. He cannot speak his mind.

It is my belief that when he can retire to write his memoirs Mr. Roosevelt will show that he never spoke his complete mind from 1932 onward. He couldn't. What we have to understand about men in these great posts is that they are no longer individuals, are scarcely human beings in the ordinary sense, and they lack our freedom to be foolish and irresponsible, which is the only really amusing thing in life.

They have to become channels through which forces are working. They have to become joint mouthpieces which absorb a thousand different and conflicting voices and then utter them forth in one voice. They cannot be bound by the individual man's code of behaviour, honor, ethics, nor can they afford the ordinary man's extravagances and inconsistencies.

If they were to behave as you and I do, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie would be favoring one policy today and another tomorrow. They would be calling each other names and shouting with anger and generally making a spectacle of themselves.

In fact, no man in great office can be himself at all, except in rare moments when he thinks it safe. He must be first of all an actor, and if he is a great actor like Mr. Churchill or Mr. Lloyd George or Mr. Roosevelt he usually makes a good leader in a time of trouble, for it is in such a time that people need to have politics dramatized for them. In peaceful times the people like to wrangle things out for themselves. Then you need a pallid, pliant leader who will let them do it. But in a war you need a torch-bearer, a man with the Word.

THE WORD

AND HOW STRANGE it is that, with all our modern inventions, with all our wondrous culture, all our gadget, all our equipment designed to make the individual unimportant and the great machine of our civilization self-starting and automatic, still the Word remains the most potent force in the world, as it always was. It is more than language. It is more even than a political theory or policy. The Word at a time like this, when empires are struggling for life, is the magic of the human spirit itself. The man who can catch the magic, and hear some how the deep rhythm and inward stir of the human spirit, who can transmute it into a form that the people can understand—that is your leader. There is your prophet, priest and king, and men will die at his command.

Mr. Churchill has the power. Every man of our race, from one end of the Empire to the other, listening to his curious gruff speech, catching like sudden rays of sunlight his vivid phrases, feels the better for it. He feels the magic, feels the deep reverberations and echoes out of our long past, gathered up and sent back to us by this strange creature; and even though the Word comes now not as in olden times direct from the prophet, even though it comes on a beastly electrical contrivance known as the radio, still we can feel the authentic touch, the irresistible power of it.

Roosevelt has the gift also, and apparently Willkie has it, each in his separate way—an indefinable capacity which cannot be taught in an education class, a technique which is without plan or design, conforms to no standards, breaks all the rules and strikes something much deeper than the listener's ear—strikes down into the inner mystery of the human heart.

GREAT SHOW

AT SUCH A TIME AS THIS the World is needed; needed more than the cold intellect, the careful power of reasoning. We need someone who can do far more than calculate us as voters, estimate our opinions or persuade us. We need someone who can catch what we all feel blindly and give it a habitation and a name.

You are witnessing this year the perfection of this process. You will hear two of the best and most talented Word carriers of modern times fairly frequently the rest of the season—Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt, and another one, Mr. Willkie. It is a privilege which few appreciate and unique to our generation. How many Englishmen ever heard Gladstone? How many Americans heard Lincoln? Very few. But you have only to turn a knob and you can switch in on men who are struggling with much greater forces than Lincoln and Gladstone ever dreamed of. You have a front seat at the greatest gladiatorial game in history where these men wrestle in death's grip with the Word carriers of the enemy (whose powers are not inconsiderable).

In fact you are watching the most amazing spectacle in all time, and it is costing you nothing. So listen to the Word carriers and marvel. But remember always that they are not themselves. They are something above and beyond themselves, never daring to be themselves completely, remaining as mediums only, in a kind of political trance, hearing voices and repeating them in our language.

My soul, sit thou a patient lookout on Judge not the play before the play is done. Her plot hath many changes; every day Speaks a new scene; the last act crowns the play.

FRANCIS QUARLES.

Elmore Philpott

RED EMPIRE

IN KEEPING WITH his fixed strategy in this war, Stalin continues to grab everything within reach, while Hitler is otherwise engaged. The three little Baltic buffer states, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, have been requested for absorption in the Red Empire. Finland is the only nation which remains outside the Russian realm, although the westerly border of the Soviet is still far to the east of the Czar's frontier with Germany.

In his speech to the Reichstag, Hitler stressed the unbroken agreement between himself and Stalin. According to Adolf, Germany not only knows what Russia is doing, but it has her blessing. We shall see. But my bet is that Stalin will continue to collect his rake-off, cash in advance, in the form of prizes which he takes as the price of the neutrality towards Germany and Italy. My guess is that at about the same time the Nazis are ready to try to get into Britain, the Communists will be ready to get what ever foothold they want around Constantinople.

IT IS STRANGE how history turns tables. During the last half of the 19th century one of the fixed bases of British policy was to keep Russia cooped up in the Black Sea. Kipling talked of the bear that walked like a man. The costermonger in London streets sang that "We don't want to fight, but by jingo if we do, we've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too." It all ended up that "the Russians shall not have Constantinople." In this century all is changed. We fought one of the most bloody and desperate campaigns in all history to force the Dardanelles, and so undo our fixed policy of 50 years. Had we been able to do so, the Great War would have been shortened immeasurably, and many things which did occur in the way of storms.

High Cost of Red Tape

From New Statesman and Nation (London).

RED TAPE costs lives; civil servants who try to produce airplanes with the same procedure by which they managed the routine of the Ministry of Procrastination for the last 30 years are more dangerous than a parachutist posse; they must be removed.

Instances of the delays caused by routinized can be multiplied indefinitely. Started only a few years ago a plant at X developed into one of the most efficient British munition factories. Before the demand came for increased production the factory had a monthly output of Y heavy gun barrels. At midnight on May 31, when the factory superintendent sent in his monthly report, he was able to state that on increase of 250 per cent had been achieved. Vans were waiting at the factory gates to rush the guns away, but the army inspector refused to cut through red tape in order to get them off. Early on May 31 he had informed the foreman that three barrels had slight defects. The foreman suggested they should be replaced and that the original breaches and mountings which had been inspected and passed, should be retained. The army inspector refused. Procedure demanded that if the barrels were defective the whole gun had to be rejected.

TIME IS LONG

From New York Times

Nations, like individuals, have their moral ups and downs. They have their periods of puritanism and of license, of aggressiveness and of live-and-let-live. No mood or impulse can be held forever. Peace and freedom are natural human desires. People can be persuaded to give them up for a while, but never permanently. Arbitrary empires have always fallen to pieces because people got tired of them.

War is a prelude to peace; anarchy a prelude to order; tyranny a prelude to freedom. How many people there must be on earth today who took for granted the security of narrow lives a year ago but will now give passionately of what they have to destroy war, anarchy and tyranny, to build order, freedom and peace! Those who long for these things need not despair, for they belong to an immortal and growing company, and behind them stand the best and noblest of the valiant dead.

NO MIDDLEMEN

From Toronto Star

Hon. C. D. Howe warns people who wish to do business with the Department of Munitions that there is no need to employ agents. "Just get in line by doing your job." The fact is that even in peacetime most of the claims made by the bright boys who say they have a "pull" are without foundation. In wartime especially there must be no favoritism.

would not have occurred. One of them was the Red Revolution.

The joke of it all is that it is now Italy and not Britain which is worrying about what Stalin is going to do. One of Mussolini's papers warns Russia that the Rome-Berlin axis will stand for no monkey business by Moscow. If there is any attempt at double-crossing, says this organ of the arch-double-crosser, Germany and Italy will take terrible vengeance.

I can imagine hard-boiled old Joe Stalin laughing at that one. He remembers that it was only a few weeks ago since Mussolini was telling the whole world what he would do if the Soviet so much as set foot in the Balkans. Joe has a way of grabbing what he wants when the other party to the "non-aggression" treaty is too busy to do anything about it. And after Stalin does what he does do, the only way to undo it is to fight the whole Soviet system.

THE ONE THING which would put Soviet in the most perilous position it has ever been in since 1917, would be a decisive victory by Germany over Britain this summer. The one country against which Russia cannot fight a successful pitched battle is Germany—a fact which explains many of the seeming somersaults of Soviet policy of the past 20 years. Whatever that means to the British people in the long run, in the near future it means that the more Stalin can do to upset Hitler's schedule the better for us.

I do not know whether Hitler ever bothered to look at the exact date of the attempt of the Spaniards to invade England. If he did, he may have noted that many more of the Spanish ships were lost in the storms than were lost in battle. Every day that passes now increases such dangers. For the date of the Spanish Armada was on the day of the year (July 19) held by weather experts to be the best invasion weather. From now on anything can happen, in the way of storms.

PLEA FOR TOLERANCE FROM PROF. KIRKCONNELL

From Winnipeg Free Press

To the Editor:—May I be permitted to voice a protest against the unjust tide of race hatred that is now sweeping across Canada. Unreasonable panic over the so-called fifth column in this country is causing many people to lose their nerve entirely. Fear of Nazi sabotage leads on to hatred of all Canadians of German origin (although the vast majority are Canadian-born and fundamentally loyal) and this leads in turn to a blind prejudice against Canadians of all European origins, whether Slavic, German, Magyar, Italian or Scandinavian. On every side one hears of men and women dismissed from employment simply because their names are not Anglo-Saxon. At a mass meeting of public organizations held in Winnipeg last week there was a perfectly alarming disposition to denounce all European-Canadians as "foreigners" and a menace to the country.

This is insanity of a perilous sort. I do not minimize the reality of anti-Canadian activities on the part of certain small groups, for I have had very specific knowledge of such groups and have not hesitated to disclose it on occasion. Handling such gentry is, however, a police job and not a case for a community hue and cry. The Anglo-Saxons, who now constitute less than one-half of our Canadian population, should remember not only that the European-Canadians amount to nearly a quarter of our population (and are in an actual majority throughout much of the west), but that they have been overwhelmingly loyal to Canada. A group like the Ukrainians are over their quota in enlistments and even the German Mennonites have been giving large sums to the Red Cross and to Polish relief. During the past 50 years we have gone a long way towards building all these nationalities into a single Canadian people. The second and third generations think of themselves primarily as Canadians. And now some wild-eyed Anglo-Canadians, crazed with fear, are endangering this whole achievement by their indiscriminate hatred and injustice towards the whole 2,500,000 of these Canadians of European origin. Nation-building is a slow, laborious business, but nation-wrecking can be done with appalling rapidity if such hysteria proceeds to wrong and embitter large sections of our population.

The most dangerous fifth columnist is a patriot in a panic; for he can do more to destroy public morale than half a dozen paid spies. Let us have an end of public panic meetings on the fifth column problem. Calm justice at home is the best guarantee of that strong and inexorable foreign policy by which we shall contribute to a British victory.

HIGH RAILWAY EARNINGS

From Winnipeg Free Press

The current soaring railway earnings are a welcome relief to the depressed figures of the past decade, remarks a writer in Canadian Business, who speculates on whether or not the improvement is only temporary.

The railways are greatly benefiting now from the business due to war industries and from the activity of the forest industries—paper and lumber—and the mining and construction industries, all of which are very productive of railway traffic.

In addition, established peacetime traffic routes have changed so that more grain goes through Canadian Atlantic ports, more Maritine coal goes to central Canada by rail, and timber rolls across the continent on wheels.

Apart from the war impetus to railway traffic and earnings, it is an important fact that the operating efficiency of the Canadian railways is much higher than at the time of the last war. Fuel consumption has been reduced by a third, and running time has been cut from a third to a half. Which means that the railways derive greater benefit from an improvement in business.

NORTH AMERICAN DEFENCE

From Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph

Right now, American preparedness is, if anything, more backward than our own and for many months to come the United States, accordingly, will have its hands full defending its own territory without coming to our rescue in an emergency, however desirous it might be of doing so. Each country is responsible for itself and to count too much on outside help from any quarter is a delusive process. Not even the Maginot Line sufficed to protect France, with Great Britain to help her. That is why we urge upon the government at Ottawa to make our war effort a total one in the real sense of the term without daily relying or delay.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I am feeling first-rate, thank you."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "depot?"
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Mischief, misdeemeanor, mistletoe.
4. What does the word "count-eract" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with imp that means "threatening to occur soon?"

ANSWERS

1. Say, "I am feeling very well, thank you." 2. Preferred pronunciation is de-po, as in me. 3. Mischief. 4. To act in opposition to; check. The effect of the narcotic was counteracted by forced exercise. 5. Impending.

I should be happy to have the college actively associated with a program for the salvaging of life and hope of youngsters on whom the burden of war has fallen with terrifying force.—President Mildred McAfee of Wellesley College.

Kiwanians Make Good Will Trip

"We can thank God that the flag which has braced storm and battle for a thousand years still flies at the gateway of liberty and justice," Premier T. D. Pattullo said at a luncheon of nearly 200 Kiwanians and their wives in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

It was the second annual "Capital to Capital" good will visit between 80 members of the Olympia Kiwanis Club and representatives from Tacoma, Shelton, Centralia and Port Angeles and the Victoria club.

Last year the local club sent a large representation to Olympia. Following that good will meeting it was decided to hold the function every year.

Premier Pattullo welcomed the visitors from the United States and said that in this world of strife it was a satisfaction to know that such things as truth, justice and righteousness could not be destroyed.

"We are thankful that we live in this hemisphere, particularly the North American continent," he said, adding that there was still a job to do. "The British Empire and United States of America are left to restore the freedom of the world."

Thomas S. Hedges, Washington State Tax Commissioner from Olympia, representing the governor of the state, Clarence D. Martin, replied briefly to the Prime Minister's address. He spoke of the warm feeling between the two nations, Canada and the United States, and invited Canadians to visit Washington.

Kenneth Ferguson, Victoria, past governor of Kiwanis district, who acted as chairman for the speech part of the meeting, called on Mayor Andrew McGavin of Victoria, who said that the friendship between the two countries became an important friendship with Canada and the rest of the British Empire at war.

E. N. Steele, former mayor of Olympia, said that the visit had been an inspiration. The feeling of friendship radiated from Victoria, he said.

James Neal, Olympia, past international vice-president of Kiwanis, said that the feeling displayed at the meeting formed a sixth column which would bring about the elimination of strife. He said that more emphasis should be placed on spiritual rather than material values of life.

Darrell Spence, president of the Victoria club, welcomed everyone present and gave a brief closing address.

James H. Bohle, president of the Olympia club, replied. Among the guests introduced was Reed Paige, Clark, United States consul in Victoria.

Thomas Crabbe gave two vocal solos, "There'll Always Be An England" and "God Bless America," accompanied at the piano by Cecil Heaton, William Tickles orchestra played several selections. Miss Jessie Pollock accompanied by Miss Helen Finlayson, both in Highland dress, piped the head-table guests to their seats.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Get those up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go to the body and you feel sour and the world looks queer.

At the cause, you need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of catalyst but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Satisfactorily secure everywhere else.

FORESTRY CAMP SCHEME LIMITED

The provincial government has scaled down its young men's forestry training plan this year from 800 to 150 young men who have been assigned to only essential forest protection and park maintenance work, it was learned today.

In most cases the youths are those who are not eligible for military service. Applications are now limited to youths of 16, 17 and 18 who have finished school, and to those of 19 and over who have medical slips showing rejection for active service.

The program has been set in motion without the customary publicity because it is not intended to be thrown open to all young men as in previous years.

Most of those taken on have been assigned as assistants to fire rangers to help in protecting the forests. A few crews have been formed for maintaining the provincial parks system and for clearing ground intended for reforestation experiments.

The nucleus of the organization has been retained, however, giving younger men an opportunity to train in forestry work.

Esquimalt Briefs

REFUSES SUPPORT OF RENT ENQUIRY

Reeve Alex Lockley and Esquimalt councillors last night refused to support Councillor Frederick Eaton's request that an inquiry be made into rents charged in the municipality.

Councillor Eaton said he had several names of persons who had had their rents raised recently. "I would like a committee appointed to investigate increases in rents," he said.

"We would be stepping on dangerous ground," Reeve Alex Lockley replied. "We have no power to do this sort of thing. I won't appoint a committee to investigate the matter."

Councillor Eaton said he did not charge anyone with profiteering by raising rents but he wanted to make sure that no such condition was arising.

"With all due respect to Councillor Eaton and his request, it is none of our business," the Reeve said.

It was suggested Councillor Eaton turn his list over to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and ask it to investigate.

"The further the Victoria Chamber of Commerce stays away from Esquimalt, the better," was Councillor Eaton's retort.

The Department of National Defence was given nearly a block of municipal property for car parking between Paradise Street and Dunsmuir Road off Head Street.

The property was given with the condition that no buildings would be erected, no gravel would be spread and it would be available to the municipality on 24 hours' notice.

Business to do with sale of lots to the Crown was dealt with in committee.

An offer to purchase a lot on Victoria View Road for $50 was rejected while a lot on Wollaston Street was sold for $75.

At the request of the Victoria Brass and Iron Works, slow traffic signs will be placed out.

TRAVEL GAINING AFTER SETBACK

A surge upward in tourist travel to British Columbia during the last few days has followed the sharp drop caused by the clampdown on United States passport regulations at the beginning of this month, according to E. G. Rowbottom, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry for the province.

Mr. Rowbottom said he believed the straightening out of the passport and re-entry regulations was having the desired effect in restoring travel from the U.S. to Canada to normalcy.

The B.C. Government Travel Bureau has taken an active part in the campaign to get tourists down the coast that there is nothing to hamper them coming to Canada.

Model Village Lease Is Drawn

A copy of the lease by which the city grants the provincial government use of the southwest corner of Douglas and Belleville Street at $4 a year for 10 years for the development of a model Indian village, was filed for council consideration at the City Hall today. It carries an option for a 10-year renewal.

Use of Elk Lake for the Labor Day regatta of the Vancouver Island Outboard Motor Association is sought by R. S. Worsley on behalf of the Red Cross. Under arrangements made between the association and the Red Cross, a collection would be taken at the regatta to aid the labor organization in its fund-raising campaign. If permission to hold the regatta at that location were granted by the city.

Tenders Called For Mine Road

A proper mining road will be built to the new Mercury property of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Picher Lake in the Stuart Lake area.

Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, announced today tenders for the work have been called. It requires a 12-mile stretch linking the property to the Manson Creek Highway, replacing a winter tractor road put in when the development was started last fall.

The province, the Dominion and the company will each put up one-third of the cost. This is the only mining road to which the Dominion is contributing this year as the mineral is for war purposes.

STEADY MARKET FOR CANTELOUPES

Shipments of Okanagan canteloupes will arrive tomorrow and Saturday, and by that time the Okanagan will be able to supply all of B.C. with the popular fruit. The season is expected to last two months, according to local wholesalers.

Fruit from the American side included two carloads of oranges and one carload of grapefruit from California, which arrived yesterday. The last apricot shipment will be in Thursday.

Seedless grapes are plentiful and are at their lowest prices. The market will decline slightly in price tomorrow. Lambert cherries are cleaning up rapidly and are expected to last another week only. Plums and blackberries are also available.

Y.W.C.A. Plans Another Dance for Forces

The bi-weekly dance sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. will be held on Tuesday next at the Shrine Auditorium, 1037 View Street, when dancing will be in progress from 8.30 to 11.30 p.m. Fred Pitt's Orchestra will provide the music, and Mr. Jim McGague will be master of ceremonies. A buffet supper will be served in the lower banquet room.

The dance is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ross Crane, who will be assisted by members of the board of directors and girls' work committee. These dances are planned especially for the men of the three services, and members of the club department. Miss Lorna Wilson is in charge of the program, which will include several novelty dances and prizes.

Robin Wood and Pte. Bill Williams contributed to the program at the Sunday tea, which followed a drive planned for some 45 of the men from Macaulay Point last week. Senior Business Girls were the hostesses. Next Sunday, July 28, the girls of the Y-Owenca Club will entertain at a similar affair. Miss Elaine Besanta and Miss Peggy Walton will give vocal selections.

Thursday evening's program for club girls will take the form of a "pop corn" party and musical, and will begin at 8 at the Y.W.C.A. The Monday program will be withdrawn in favor of the dance on Tuesday, July 30.

Oak Bay Chapter No. 42 C.E.S. will hold a card game this evening at 8 in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall. Pivot bridge will be played, players to bring own cards.

Bandmaster A. E. Tuttle, R.A.F. band, will address a meeting of the Victoria Red Shield Women's Auxiliary tonight at 7.30 in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. Mrs. J. Hayward will preside and ladies interested in making comforts for service men are invited.

Victoria Soldier Met Cupid, Not Mars

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND

(CP)—When Sgt. Major Graham Cuthbertson left his home in Victoria, B.C., nearly 10 months ago, he expected to see plenty of action in the mud of France and Flanders with his famous Canadian Active Service Force regiment in the 1st Division.

Fate, however, decreed otherwise. He was transferred to the division headquarters staff, is now in the forward defensive zone of the home front—and cupid has done the rest.

Cuthbertson married Miss Teresa Jungman, younger daughter of Mrs. Richard Guinness, relative of the wealthy Irish family of brewers. The couple met at an entertainment given for a group of Canadians in the bride's London home.

Social and Personal

Mrs. A. E. Williams, Athlone Apartments, left last night for a motor trip through the interior.

Mrs. J. H. Stuart, Quadra Street, has gone to Vancouver to join her husband on a short visit on the mainland.

Mrs. R. M. Mather, who is visiting her parents, Magistrate H. C. Hall and Mrs. Hall, Craigdarroch, will return tomorrow to Vancouver.

Mrs. H. T. Willett of Vancouver, who has been spending the last week in Victoria with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Porritt, Moss Street, returned home this afternoon. She was accompanied by her granddaughter, Wendy Porritt, who will stay with her in Vancouver for a time.

Delegates to the B.C. Fire Chiefs convention and their wives took an afternoon off from convention business yesterday to enjoy the far-famed hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart at "Benvenuto," Tod Inlet. About 17 cars carried the visitors out to the gardens, where they were welcomed by their host and hostess and shown through the gardens and the aviaries, as well as through the charming house. Afterwards Mrs. Butchart entertained the large party to tea on the lawn in front of the small summer house, rounding out a delightful afternoon.

A miscellaneous shower was held recently in honor of Miss Gladys Clare at the home of Mrs. R. G. Clare, Violet Avenue, Saanich. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet and the gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated container. Games were enjoyed throughout the evening, after which refreshments were served from a daintily-appointed table. Those present were: Mesdames H. Whitworth, M. Bowen, R. G. Clare, A. Jepson, A. Clare, G. Rafter, W. Clare, R. Gate, R. Clare and G. R. Clare, the Misses Marjorie Clare, Jenny Zarelli, Eve Philpott, Ethyl Bowen and Emily Philpott.

Mrs. T. Murray and Mrs. L. Schmelz Jr., entertained at a linen shower on Monday evening at the former's home on Alder Street in compliment to Miss Olive Kilby. On her arrival a bride-to-be received a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and rosebuds, and later was presented with the many dainty and useful gifts, concealed in a huge slipper, fashioned of pink and white. Games and competitions caused much fun, and refreshments were later served from a table centred with pink and white carnations and pink tapers in silver holders. The invited guests were: Mrs. W. J. Kilby, Mrs. F. Appleby Sr., Mrs. F. Brownsey, Mrs. T. Hawkes, Mrs. Ted Smith, Mrs. F. Hitchcock, Mrs. T. Appleby, Mrs. F. Appleby Jr., Mrs. H. Rhodes and the Misses Olive Kilby and Ruth Appleby.

Dull Hair Needs Lustre Restored

Many people who seek an inexpensive dressing to keep hair in place and restore natural lustre are using Lusto Brilliantine. This carefully prepared toiletary accentuates the natural beauty of the hair.

Mrs. R. H. Tye of Nanaimo returned home today after a short visit in Victoria.

Mrs. Jean Willis, Crescent Road, will leave for Vancouver tomorrow and be the guest of Mrs. H. D. Flumerfelt.

Mrs. Robin Forbes has returned to her home in Vancouver after visiting her parents, Rev. T. H. Laundry and Mrs. Laundry, Beach Drive.

Mrs. J. S. Turner, 836 Wollaston Street, entertained Tuesday afternoon at a delightful tea in honor of Mrs. W. H. Usher and Mrs. G. Usher, both of Regina, it also being the occasion of Mr. J. S. Turner's birthday. Other guests present were Mrs. E. Fisher, Mrs. E. Warner, Mrs. A. Fae, Mrs. E. P. Roberts and daughter, June, and Miss Beth Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Horsfall will leave for Vancouver this week and will remain on the mainland until the end of August, when they will return to their home in Gordon Head. During August Mr. Horsfall will conduct a number of the performances at the "Theatre Under the Stars" in Stanley Park, Vancouver. Productions scheduled include opera, ballet, Shakespeare and musical comedy. The opening performance will take place on Tuesday, August 6.

A pleasant evening was spent on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Hudson, Fort Street, with some of her pupils and friends. Those present were: Mesdames E. Richards, B. Ruddock, Misses Margaret and Florence Greenwood, Helen Hudson, Daphne Philpott, Winnie Gardner, Catherine and Marguerite Dirom, Helen Webster, Inez Tennyson, Messrs. Clifford Moore, Romaine Grant, Allan Bayliss, Gilbert Dennison, Randolph Scott, Harry Maloney, Robert Reid, Percy Greenwood, Kenneth Burdon. The evening was spent in dancing, musical numbers by the Misses Dirom and Robert Reid, piano-accompaniment solos by Mr. Clifford Moore, and a prize three-step, won by Romaine Grant and Marguerite Dirom. Refreshments were served at the end of the entertainment.

In honor of Miss Kay Hindson, who is to be married to Mr. John Hayes in the near future, a kitchen shower was held by the former and present Royal Dairy staff at the home of Mrs. E. Fletcher, 3750 Carey Road. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage of carnations, together with a large decorated basket of gifts, topped with a doll in a soda fountain uniform. The rooms were attractive with blue and white trimmings and flowers. The supper-table was set with streamers to the corners by bridal sets, and a centerpiece of blue and white larkspur lighted by blue candles. Miss M. Fletcher, the hostess, was assisted by Misses Ivy Johnson and Grace Zala. Games were enjoyed through the evening, the winners being Mrs. C. Payne and Misses Alberta White and Ruth Tolhurst. The guests included Mesdames Galley and Waring, C. Payne, V. McNeely, D. De Costa, M. Wood, B. McAllister and Misses Sheila McAllister, Mina Smith, Reta Gallie, Alberta White, Mary Saul, June Stanel, Ruth Tolhurst, Jess Christians, Joyce Murray, Kay Long, Edith Fletcher, Hilda Jacques, Marguerite Davies, Grace Zala and Ivy Johnson.

Exchange Teacher Had War Thrills

TORONTO (CP)—Miss Ainslie Campbell, Calgary teacher, arrived in Toronto today after a year of exchange teaching in England with enough exciting war tales to keep her pupils at seats' edges for another year.

Her ship was missed by two torpedoes, five of her cousins were killed in an air raid and she had an opportunity of observing the French people in Paris a few weeks before the French collapse.

Speaking in an interview here of a submarine attack on her ship, Miss Campbell said: "I was having breakfast when we heard the two thuds of the torpedoes which missed us. I grabbed my lifebelt and got ready to run on deck with a bunch of other people. But the stewards just went on serving breakfast, so we just sat down and went on eating."

The Catholic Ladies' Altar Society of Salt Spring Island held a meeting recently at the rectory, the president, Mrs. D. Fyvie, in the chair. Final arrangements were made for the garden party and sale to be held on Wednesday, July 31, at the home of Mrs. G. E. Akerman, Fulford. There will be a stall of fancy work and home cooking in charge of Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Gynes and Mrs. King, also a food stand and contest. Mrs. Benton will have charge of the tea, assisted by members.

The Navy League W.A. will meet on Friday afternoon in the rooms on Broad Street.

Scientists have been unable to discover why migratory birds fly long distances at night, but it is thought that they do this so the daylight may be used in hunting insects and other food.

Wally's 1st Husband Wants 3rd Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The first husband of the Duchess of Windsor, Commander Earl Winfield Spencer, United States Navy, retired, went to court today with his third wife for a hearing of their divorce action.

Mrs. Spencer, the former Norma Reese Johnson, widow of a Detroit manufacturer, declares her income is insufficient for her needs and asks $100 a month from Spencer's pension of $343 a month. He contends her $76,000 fortune is adequate for her.

Both charge cruelty, and Mrs. Spencer alleges in addition her husband is habitually intemperate. They were married in Los Angeles three years ago and

SUNSETS ON VENUS PHOTOGRAPHED

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Four young scientists have returned from a mountain-top camp with 1,500 photographs of sunsets on the planet Venus.

They said probably not more than a dozen astronomers had observed the phenomenon during the last 200 years.

The expedition, said Edson, was started last year at Lowell Observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., by J. B. Edson. Edson and three other graduate students at the California Institute of Technology—J. L. Winget, Richard Canright and Ernest Wright—Camped for two weeks on Lookout Mountain, 80 miles southeast of here, taking daily pictures at the Smithsonian Solar Observatory.

The expedition, said Edson, was timed to coincide with the sunset phenomenon—a red glow in the planet's upper atmosphere—visible only when Venus is almost, but not quite, directly between the earth and the sun.

Edson said they saw Venus as a thin silver crescent, the horns of which bent toward each other until the planet was visible as a delicate ring of light. Astronomers picture Venus as a gigantic "dust bowl." Changes in the dim "arms" of Venus twilight permitted calculations of the height to which the atmosphere extends above the dust.

The pictures show that the atmospheric ceiling above the dust jumps up and down from only a few hundred feet to more than 25,000 feet, indicating violent weather.

War Millionaires Headed Off in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States administration tax experts have brought out the first rough draft of a bill to "prevent war millionaires."

It is an "excess profits" tax. Among the bill's provisions, it says, "surplus" would be either "normal earnings" or "reasonable re-

CONVICT DESCENDS FROM WATER TOWER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP).—Hunger and guards' arguments prevailed after 19 hours and brought a 20-year-old convict to earth today from the top of a 100-foot water tower at the federal penitentiary here, where he had taken refuge to avoid return to a Georgia prison camp.

Warden J. W. Sanford said Andrew Jackson Wynne, apparently had suffered nothing worse than sunburn and a fierce appetite from his stay, begun at 1:30 p.m., yesterday, continued in the afternoon's 94-degree heat and on through last night until about 8:30 this morning.

Sanford said the prisoner's climb apparently had been prompted by the fact that his two-year federal auto theft sentence was ending today, and he was to be returned to the Chatham County (Savannah) work camp to complete a four-to-five year burglary sentence interrupted by an escape in 1937.

Wynne ended his defiance voluntarily with a final yell and a few parting blows on the steel tank with a machinist's hammer, which he had used to discourage attempts to remove him.

Penitentiary officials said Wynne would have to serve 94 more days—the time gained by previous good behavior—before his federal sentence would be complete.

But he'll have to spend several days in the hospital, will lose prison privileges and, state officials said firmly, will have to finish out the Georgia sentence any way.

Stamps on Magazines

OTTAWA (CP).—The department of national revenue today explained the 10 per cent import war tax on magazines and advertising matter entering the country by mail will be paid in customs revenue stamps which will be obtained by publishers and affirmed before mailing. Such mail matter with stamps affixed will not be delivered until it has been examined and the stamps have been cancelled by the customs.

FIREARMS PERMITS FOR VISITORS

OTTAWA (CP).—Bona fide tourists and visitors from Allied and neutral nations, as well as residents of Canada, may be given permission to carry firearms in Canada if authorized by Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

An order-in-council published in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette provides exemption for such persons from the provisions of regulation 37A of the Defence of Canada Regulations regarding the possession of firearms.

Provisions making it possible for hunters from the United States to enter the Dominion with their guns should be an important factor in stimulating Canada's tourist trade, an official of the Canadian Travel Bureau said this afternoon.

He explained that while hunters did not make up a great percentage of American tourists, they were an important group because, as a class, they tended to spend more money.

The regulations will affect an even larger number of aliens in the Dominion, an R.C.M.P. official said.

RUMANIANS SEIZE BRITISH OIL WELLS

BUCHAREST (AP).—The Rumanian government today confiscated the largest British oil company in Rumania.

The concern was the Astra-Romane Oil Company, jointly owned by British and Dutch interests.

Oil Commissioner Gheron Netta appointed one of his deputies to run the company for the government.

A government order asserted the concern, a subsidiary of the Royal Dutch Shell, had failed to provide information on production as required by Rumanian law.

Under the terms of a recent oil decree the Rumanian government now may send the company's production to Germany for use by the Nazi armies.

Since the start of the war the Astra-Romane Company had refused steadfastly to ship oil to the Reich.

Japanese Platform

TOKYO (AP).—The cabinet council of the new government of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe agreed today on this basic platform:

1. To attempt to contribute to the Empire's "spirit of international brotherhood."
2. To strengthen national defence, including the establishment of an East Asia economic bloc and reform of the domestic structure.

Budge Patty Beats Brawn

VICTORIA'S all-star lacrosse players will be in first-class shape for Friday night's game with Vancouver Burrards or honorary manager Lester Patrick will want to know the reason why. When the local officials approached Patrick to take on the manager's job for the one night, he agreed. No doubt some of the boys figured Patrick would just wander out to the Willows at game-time and sit on the bench to lend his patronage to the affair.

Such is far from the case. Monday night Lester was out at the Willows in his shirt-sleeves directing the workout of his players and tonight will put the lads through their paces again. The boss of the world's professional hockey champions not only is supervising the practices but is giving the players the advantage of his wealth of experience in team attack and defence tactics.

Lacrosse is no new sport to Patrick. The grey-haired pilot was manager of the Victoria team that won the Mann Cup several years ago. He is also given the credit for pulling one of the smartest moves in the history of local outdoor lacrosse. Victoria was playing New Westminster in a cup match. The day of the game proved dampish and the footing treacherous. Instead of equipping his players with running shoes, Patrick scouted around and fitted every man with football boots. Result was the Victoria boys literally tore through the famous Salmonbellies for an easy victory.

Before another serious accident takes place the softball association or city should take steps to keep the fans back from the baselines during softball games at Central Park. Monday night a little baby girl suffered a broken leg while watching a game with her grandmother. The latter was knocked down but suffered no serious injury. It all happened because the spectators are allowed to crowd in on the lines and players run into them chasing foul balls. The players cannot be blamed as they have only one idea in mind—catch the ball—and do not realize they are right on top of the spectators. Right off the lines several feet back and nobody will get hurt.

The move to match Gene Tunney with Jack Dempsey is the silliest suggestion since Cash-and-carry Pyle thought up the Great American Boxing Derby. Tunney wouldn't box in 1928. What would he be thinking about attempting any sort of a comeback in 1940? Give the man credit for the good sense he has shown since retiring.

A remark made by Dempsey following his disgraceful fiasco with mat bad man Bull Curry in Detroit explains why the old Man Mauler got off on the wrong track this late in life.

"I've had so many headaches lately, I just had to do something to take my mind off my troubles," he said.

They haven't been financial headaches, for he is far from being broke. Dempsey now demands that wrestlers put up a forfeit guaranteeing they'll stand up and fight. What he really asks them to do is stand up and be hit.

Fighting at 45 is a strange way for Jack Dempsey to work out his aches.

Pee Wee Reese, who was passed up by the Boston Red Sox, will be the regular Brooklyn shortstop from now on.

Leo Durocher's legs bothered him when he returned to the line-up, and he intends to confine himself to bench managing unless an emergency arises.

Donie Bush pays Reese a fine compliment in an argument with George Weiss, director of the New York Yankees farm chain, about the respective merits of the Louisville kid and Phil Rizzuto, the colorful little fellow at shortstop for the New York club's Kansas City subsidiary.

Weiss insists Rizzuto is superior in the field and at bat, but Bush says Reese will make more plays outside the ordinary shortstop circle than anyone he has ever seen.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two seeded players—one American and one British Columbian—were knocked out of competition by two youngsters in the second day's play of the western Canada lawn tennis championships at Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club yesterday.

Jack Brawn, top-seeded British Columbian and Vancouver city champion, was defeated 1-6, 7-5, 6-1 by 15-year-old Budge Patty of Los Angeles, while Walt Davis of Portland eliminated Pierpont Wilson, fourth seeded contestant, 6-4, 6-4.

The Patty-Brawn match was the feature of the day as the youngster matched strokes with the Vancouver titlist, and after dropping the first set, flicked forehand drives along the line, made few errors and drew Brawn to the net many times, giving Budge an opportunity to catch him off balance.

Davis played a steady game and in each set broke through to crack Wilson's service in the ninth game. Patty and Davis meet today.

Canadian champion, Eleanor Young of Vancouver, seeded No. 1, dropped only one game in her debut against Lavelle Kelly of Portland, while second-seeded Jean Milne also won easily from Anne Cook of Seattle.

HELEN GURLEY WINS
Helen Gurley, top-seeded American star, from Sacramento, ousted off Patty Greenup of Tacoma, 6-1, 6-0, in the women's open singles, while Helen Wright of Seattle turned back Laverne Kapps, San Francisco, 9-7, 6-1.

Lou Gates, hard-hitting San Franciscan, toppled Susie Milne of Vancouver, 6-2, 6-3, and will play Dorothy Head of Berkeley today.

Eleanor Young plays Helen Wright in a feature women's match and practically all events will reach the quarter-finals.

Harold Wagner of San Francisco teamed with Jack Gurley, brother of Helen, to beat A. G. Donaldson and J. Peers, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-4, in a men's doubles game.

In the girls' under 18 division, Muriel Birch of Vancouver stroked her way to a 6-1, 6-2 victory over 13-year-old Gladys Ross of Seattle.

Budge Patty chalked up a second victory by defeating W. Green of Vancouver, 6-2, 6-4, in a boys' under 18 class. Irving Parker of Portland won after three sets from Don Peck of Seattle in the same division, while John Howard also of Portland brushed off B. Jardine, Vancouver, 6-4, 6-3.

Sensational Golf Scoring
DETROIT (AP)—All scoring records for United States Golf Association amateur competition were obliterated yesterday by a mighty conquest of par by crack public links players.

Two of the 190 contestants, Worth Stimits Jr. of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Edward J. Furgol of Utica, N.Y., smashed the 19-year-old qualifying record of 139 by a stroke and the 64 players who survived the qualifying test shot 149 or better, lowest qualifying mark in the history of this or any other United States Golfers' Association event.

Stimits, a senior of Colorado College and champion of the Rocky Mountain Conference, added another 69 to his two-under-par score of Monday.

Stimits, a senior of Colorado College and champion of the Rocky Mountain Conference, added another 69 to his two-under-par score of Monday.

Furgol, 22-year-old metal polisher, who has been playing golf only four years, scored 68 yesterday to go with his 70 of Monday.

Charles Lind of Denver scored 68 to go with his 71 of Monday, tying the former qualifying record and taking third place.

Walter Gilliam, San Mateo, Calif., was a 68 shooter, and his 140 total deadlocked him with Adrian French of Huntington Park, Calif., for fourth position.

MINOR BASEBALL

At Beacon Hill Park tonight at 6 Eagles and Cedar Hill, second division baseball nines, will meet in an important Humphrey Cup fixture. Victory for the birdmen will place them deadlocked with Cubs in the first berth and necessitate a playoff for the position. Should Cedar Hill beat Eagles, the Humphrey Cup playoffs will start Tuesday. Four clubs, Eagles, Cubs, Navy and Cedar Hill will meet in the playdowns.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards ended New Westminster Adanacs' one-day reign on top of the Intercity Box Lacrosse League by romping to an 11 to 7 triumph over Salmonbellies before the season's smallest crowd here last night.

Burrards now have 24 points, one more than Adanacs and four more than the third-place Richmond Farmers. Salmonbellies and North Shore Indians are fighting it out for the cellar spot.

On Friday night Burrards will be in Victoria for a Red Cross exhibition game.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four Nainaimo-duos and three Cumberland pairs were listed among victors after 280 matches had been completed in the second day's play in the 18th annual tournament of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association here yesterday.

A lone Victoria pair also survived. W. Mossey of Cumberland, however, was the only Vancouver Islander left in the Chambers singles, an event which is continued to British Columbia bowlers who have won their individual club championship this year.

Officials ran of 156 pairs in the Wee McKay doubles competition, playing in 39 sections of four duos in each, with the winners of each then playing one round in the knockout series.

Runners-up went on under similar conditions for the Mercer trophy while third and fourth pairs competed in the Robert Gray memorial event.

Winners included:

WEE McKAY TROPHY

First Round

Gavin and Gavin, Cumberland, 19; Belle and Waterfield, Cumberland, 12.

McCormack and Baker, Nainaimo, 20; Barkley and Haigh, Vancouver, 10.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards ended New Westminster Adanacs' one-day reign on top of the Intercity Box Lacrosse League by romping to an 11 to 7 triumph over Salmonbellies before the season's smallest crowd here last night.

Burrards now have 24 points, one more than Adanacs and four more than the third-place Richmond Farmers. Salmonbellies and North Shore Indians are fighting it out for the cellar spot.

Burrards led 2 to 0 at the end of the first quarter 6 to 2 at half time and 10 to 3 at the end of the second.

No Teacher Shortage In British Columbia

There is no sign yet of a shortage of teachers in British Columbia due to enlistments, Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, said this morning, commenting on a dispatch from Edmonton, which indicated a shortage there.

"There have been several of our teachers join up, but so far we appear to have sufficient for the new term," he said.

The two provincial normal schools and the teacher training course at the university turned out about 250 new teachers this year.

Of British Columbia's 4,000-odd teachers in the public schools about 1,500 are men and 2,500 women.

The Edmonton dispatch is as follows: "Indications that Alberta may face a shortage of school teachers this fall cropped up today when officials of the University of Alberta, summer school reported they had received inquiries from two or three inspectors of rural school districts.

"Enlistments in the units of Canada's armed forces were given as the reason for the shortage, the extent of which will not be known for two or three weeks."

Victoria Short Wave Club picnic will be held Sunday at Witty's Lagoon. Members will meet at the City Hall at 2.

Training Camp Sites Surveyed

Officers enlisting men for military training in the Victoria area reported today a steady stream of recruits for part-time training.

With 1,500 men required to fill the infantry battalion, 3rd Canadian Brigade for artillery work, and the 13th Field Ambulance Company, it will probably take a week or two to complete the attestations, but night training will commence as soon as the first few platoons are organized.

Meanwhile military headquarters is surveying the sites for encampments, where the men will go for several weeks of practical training.

Brig. C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C., for the district, said a reconnaissance of training sites is proceeding, but final choice of locations has not been made.

Another C.A.S.F. unit, the 6th Canadian Cavalry, is now reports up to full strength. Major A. E. Parlow, officer commanding, said applications of loggers and practical woodsmen were more than sufficient to fill the company.

A good start has been made on recruiting the 5th Canadian Motorcyclist Regiment under Lieut.-Col. G. C. Oswald, which will have headquarters in Kelowna. Two score men have been sent from this area for the unit.

HONORS FOR COOK

One of the big appeals for men at the recruiting depot is for those who will serve as cooks. Young men who think there is no chance for distinction in such a position should read the story of Lance-Corporal Ben Booker.

Booker, says a London item, is a big lanky fellow whose soldier pals "kid" him about his protruding ears. But Ben's ears played an important part in earning the Military Medal.

"Book," as he is known around the kitchen, won his distinction when the B.E.F. were eating out of Boulogne. It was busy enough for "Book" to try and look after feeding of his company of the Welsh Guards. But all kinds of stragglers poured in and "Book" and his army cooks under him arranged to make sure no one left the temporary quarters with an empty stomach.

That in itself was quite a task considering the enemy was within firing range of the camp and was proving very annoying to the cooks attempting to concentrate on feeding hungry and weary troops of their own army.

Able to stand only so much, "Book" and his kitchen crew became annoyed and finally grabbed rifles and joined in with the fighters every time the enemy approached too close. Then they went back to their "kitchen."

But there was no peace and every time "Book's" ears heard "Jerry's" fire drawing closer he gave orders for his little crew to abandon the scullery and get back into the firing line. Under "Books" orders they did it a number of times until the order finally came to withdraw.

Even then, explained a war office communique announcing award of the Military Medal, "Book" managed to evacuate a large number of wounded by driving them back in his supply lorries."

Charles M. Bates, manager of the Columbia Rooms, suffered a bruised forehead and thigh when knocked down by a car last night on Douglas Street. A city police report said the driver of the car was Fred Gale, 131 Menzies Street.

Air Campaign Needs $20,000

There is still more than $20,000 needed to put Victoria's Air Supremacy drive over the top of its $50,000 objective.

"The need for planes is urgent," said a member of the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services, sponsors of the campaign to raise money for aircraft to be stationed at Patricia Bay. "We want to complete the drive this week. The response has been gratifying, but we are looking for a patriotic citizen to contribute a plane to wind up the drive successfully."

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Eric W. Hamber, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor, and honorary president of the Air Services W.A., inspected the committee rooms on the ground floor of the Sealand Building, Douglas Street. She praised the women's organization for their patriotic effort and minutely inspected the Link trainer, the intriguing miniature airplane in which student pilots learn the rudiments of flight. It will be on inspection until the end of this week, with an airman in attendance to explain its operation to the public.

Tickets on Sale For Gracie Fields

Contrary to reports, tickets for the Gracie Fields' show at the Royal Victoria Theatre August 2, are not sold out, Brian Burden-Murphy, who is in charge, said at 1.30 today.

Tickets are selling fast, he said, but there were still some available at the box office of the theatre.

A block-long queue of ticket purchasers has been formed outside the theatre most of the day. Some people were waiting at the box office as early as 7.30 this morning.

Target practice will be carried out from Victoria and Esquimalt fortresses tomorrow between 4 and 5 p.m. The arc of fire will be from Brothie Ledge to Albert Head.

Firemen Shown Ways of Checking Big Blazes

Practically every phase of fire-fighting was rehearsed and explained at today's session of the British Columbia fire chiefs and firemen's convention being held at the "Cormo" on Street headquarters. The entire day was devoted to instruction work, with several educational displays given to assembled firemen, who are here from all sections of the province. Deputy Chief Robert Taylor, Victoria, was instructor-in-chief.

The most spectacular exhibition took place on the Industrial Reserve at 1.30 this afternoon. There 550 gallons of oil were fired and firemen demonstrated how to control such a conflagration and extinguish it with the use of a Foamite generator, which sprayed 700 gallons of Foamite a minute onto the flames. This apparatus is used by big oil companies to control blazes on oil tanks.

H. Brown, Vancouver representative of the Foamite Foamite Company in British Columbia, conducted the exhibition.

A. S. Barrett and Bert Harrison, Vancouver, connected with the B.C. District Telegraph Company, which installs and maintains the Aero Automatic Fire Alarm, gave a demonstration on how this alarm system works. A half-dozen local companies have the automatic alarms. In buildings equipped with this system the alarm works automatically when fire raises the temperature to a certain degree. The alarm immediately raps out the news to the fire department. Other modern fire-fighting apparatus was demonstrated, including a M.A.S. telephone mask, a new aid to scientific fire-fighting. With this device, a fireman in a remote, smoke-filled location can talk with those outside. Precious minutes are saved in getting valuable information to the chief regarding conditions within the building.

INSTRUCTION CLASSES

During the day the delegates were divided into a dozen classes to receive coaching from experienced instructors.

The different methods of laying out and laying out hose lines were demonstrated by Chief William Murphy of North Vancouver and Lieut. Philip N. Guy, Victoria. How to handle extension and other size ladders was shown by Deputy Chief Taylor of Victoria and Capt. Robert T. Brindle of Victoria.

Chief A. A. Macdonald of Trail illustrated to the classes how to properly use fire extinguishers, chemical, foam, pyrene, carbon dioxide, water types. District Chief Ed Erratt, Vancouver, and Captain John H. Russell of Victoria were in charge of classes demonstrating special tools utilized by firemen to force entry into buildings and provide ventilation. Chief Gordon A. Macdonald of Nelson described how various types of nozzles, full stream and spray, were operated. The handling of centrifugal and rotary pumps was explained by Deputy Chief J. H. Cameron of Cumberland and master mechanic W. B. Mathews of Victoria.

The art of how to use salvage covers to reduce property damage when firemen are at work was shown by Chief Fred Gore of Kelowna and Lieut. F. W. Briers of Victoria. Lieut. John D. Crowthers of Victoria conducted the class on ways to handle ropes, tie knots, loops and hitches for the purpose of hoisting ladders and other fire equipment to roofs or other parts of high buildings.

Captain John Anderson of Vancouver and Lieut. C. A. Gwyer of Victoria gave a rehearsal in the proper use of inhalators and gas masks.

Tonight at 7 in the auditorium a quiz contest on fire department work will be held.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM

Instruction classes will continue tomorrow morning. After lunch contest drills will be held, starting at 1.30.

The convention officially winds up tomorrow night with a banquet in Spencer's dining room at 7, with John L. Noble, manager of B.C. Underwriters' Association, chairman.

The 1941 convention will be held at Kamloops, not Kelowna as previously reported.

Last night an interesting moving picture was shown depicting oil fires, their prevention and extinguishment. The show was given by the fire prevention committee of the petroleum industry of British Columbia. The film described the nature of fires, their chemical components that cause fire and demonstrating by laboratory experiments how they act and how they can be safely guarded against.

Our earth is only a poor fifth in the sun's family of planets. Four planets are much larger than the earth, and four are slightly smaller.

Lumber Output Up, Exports Held

British Columbia's lumber industry today counted an 8% increase in production and a drop of less than 2% in waterborne exports, despite war shipping difficulties, as its record for the first six months of 1940.

Shipments to the United Kingdom in June were the highest for any month since the war started, 97,795,335 board feet, and only slightly below the peak figures established just before war's outbreak.

Practically the whole of the waterborne timber export has been diverted to Empire markets, chiefly the United Kingdom, with all former European markets such as France, Italy, Denmark, Holland, Belgium wiped out. There were no shipments to China in June.

Production of spruce, largely needed for airplane construction, increased 50% in the first six months, by comparison with last year. Douglas fir production has been steadily pushed and is also ahead of 1939 figures.

Output of the logging camps to the end of June, as shown by the log scale, was 1,678,271,373 board feet of saw logs, 5,867,889 lineal feet of poles and piling, 68,718 cords and 273,951 hewn ties. This compared with 1,563,373,568 board feet, 4,969,078 lineal feet, 90,503 cords and 350,512 hewn ties last year. June scale of saw logs was 354,284,139 board feet, up 50,000,000 from May, but about 12,000,000 feet below June last year.

Scale of spruce was 66,421,114 board feet, against 43,235,000 board feet last year. The June scale of spruce alone was 21,471,818; up 4,000,000 feet from May and indicating steadily expanding production.

With shipping difficulties apparently solved, for the time being at least, the waterborne export picture was considerably brighter than some forecasts had expected.

Total for the six months was 586,814,531 board feet, of which the United Kingdom took 447,176,789 feet, or nearly 80 per cent. This compared with last year's shipments of 596,171,711 feet, of which the United Kingdom had 423,274,398. In the last six months of 1939 the United Kingdom, however, took 688,000,000 board feet, which included the heaviest shipments on record in July, August and September.

After that there was a slump because of shipping troubles, but June shipments were restored to normal and exporters now say there is a sufficiency of ships.

In six months Africa increased its purchases from 30,755,000 to 55,376,212 board feet, apparently shut off from European purchases. The Australian shipments, however, were down from 75,245,000 to 50,459,000 board feet. China had no purchases in 1939, but in 1940 took 5,498,888 to 583,244. The New

Summer School

Bet on Freedom' Philpott Advice

"When the red horse of Communism, the black horse of Nazism and the white horse of Freedom line up, put your money on the white horse," Capt. Elmore Philpott advised teachers at Victoria's Summer School in the course of an address on "Communism, Fascism and Freedom" today.

"I think our world, the free world, is certain to survive, because free men fight better than slaves," he declared after analyzing the case histories of German Fascism and Russian Communism.

He emphasized the point victory would not be achieved without a fight and blamed the free world for the current world conditions as much as the dictatorships, saying the sins of omission of the former were equally responsible for conditions today as were the sins of commission of the latter.

"I think our world, the free world, is certain to survive, because free men fight better than slaves," he declared after analyzing the case histories of German Fascism and Russian Communism.

The fight, he said, should not stop with the successful repulse of Hitler's attack on Britain and the Empire, but should continue with an offensive leading to a democratic world federation.

In a larger sense, he continued, democracies could not take the offensive unless they made it plain to the boys who went to fight that when they came back there would be a better world to receive them—not a world of insecurity, unemployment and mental distress.

He repeated his belief the war would last another four or five years, but that it might not be fought entirely on the battlefield.

He saw conditions today not as the death agonies of a civilization about to be submerged in a new Dark Age, but as the birth pangs of a newer and brighter world.

Zealand trade was off from 3,733,116 to 1,783,642. The domestic trade was curtailed, with shipments to eastern Canada down from 17,671,000 to 7,188,000—less and to the U.S. from 68,833,000 to 30,246,000.

Fish Plant Stirs Commons Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Construction of a fish-processing plant at Carleton Place, Ont., with assistance of $75,000 from the federal treasury, was discussed in the House of Commons last night.

Fisheries Minister Michael had his departmental estimates before the supply committee when Conservative Leader Hanson questioned the economic soundness of assistance given, through the New Brunswick government, for construction of a processing plant by a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Gorton Fish Company of Gloucester, Mass.

Mr. Michael said the assistance was given from money voted to aid the fishermen, only because the proposition was risky. It was considered an efficient way of assisting the needy Carleton Place fishermen, and had the merit of possible economic success.

If the fishermen had not been aided in that manner they would have to be assisted in some other form, he said.

Mr. Hanson said that when it had operated for a number of years, the company would own the entire plant.

If the venture proved economically sound and aided the fishermen he would not criticize the mode of assistance, Mr. Hanson said. But if it was not properly operated the New Brunswick government would "hear" from him.

MISTAKES DESCRIBED

Mr. Hanson said he believed the New Brunswick government provided 75 per cent of the capital cost of the plant altogether. An architect with no experience planning factories drew the plans with these results, he said.

The foundation was three feet too low. There was no provision for ventilation in the basement where the freezing plant was, and it had to be installed later. A brick wall had to be torn out to get some machinery into the plant just after the wall was finished. The cement floor did not slope enough for the water and waste to run off. The sewers were not big enough. The drying and fertilizer plant broke down in trial.

OTHER MEASURES PASSED

The House concluded passage of the budget tax legislation by giving third reading to the Special War Revenue Act and the Excess Profits Tax Bill and half-a-dozen other minor bills.

The item on automobile taxation renewed the dispute provoked by Henry Ford's refusal to manufacture airplane engines for Britain in the United States. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rosetown-Biggar, Sask., suggested any profits resulting to the Ford Company of Canada through the advantage given the lower-priced cars by this taxation should accrue to the Dominion government and not to a man like Henry Ford.

U.S. Navy Tenders Will Be Built

SEATTLE (AP)—The United States navy has contracted with several Pacific coast shipbuilding companies to construct 12 150-foot navy tenders to service anti-submarine nets, it was announced here yesterday.

The Lake Washington Shipyard at nearby Houghton was awarded a contract to build four of the ships, and firms in San Francisco and Portland were given contracts to build four tenders each.

The signed contract called for expenditure of about $4,500,000, but it was not definitely learned whether the amount was for all

To Set Grain Price

Wheat Bill Ready For Commons Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Notice of a bill described as "a measure to be named the Canadian Wheat Board Act, to provide for exigencies arising from loss of overseas markets for wheat, from the large existing stocks of wheat in Canada and from the problem of handling the 1940 crop," appeared on the Commons votes and proceedings today in the name of Trade Minister J. A. MacKinnon.

The measure has been under consideration for some time by the wheat committee of the cabinet, and consultations have been held with the Canadian Wheat Board.

The problem of handling the 1940 crop is complicated by the disappearance of overseas markets, due to the war, and a large carryover of wheat from the 1939 crop. The price to be paid to farmers for the crop now coming on may be set forth in the bill. In 1939 the basic price was 70 cents a bushel basis No. 1 northern wheat at Fort William.

Mr. MacKinnon will probably make a statement on the governmental policy as represented in the bill when the resolution comes up in the House.

Grapevine reports for some days have said the government might continue the 10-cent price. However, there are also those who would cut that figure 10 cents because of the state of the market and those who would boost it to offset any rise in cost due to the war.

Limitation on the proportion of their crop which farmers will be allowed to place on the market immediately is also looked for. This would answer the storage problem caused by a new crop of more than 400,000,000 bushels on top of a record 250,000,000 bushel carryover. The United Kingdom is practically the only overseas market left open and it is not likely to absorb a great deal more than 100,000,000 or 125,000,000 bushels from Canada in the next crop year.

The government's 1940 wheat policy is also expected to include a decision on whether to close the Winnipeg Grain Exchange for the duration of the war and whether the acreage bonus will be continued from last year.

Freighter Sunk

NEW YORK (AP)—The Estonian freighter Tili, bound from New York to London with a general cargo of merchandise and a crew of 29 has been destroyed near the southwest English coast, the United States Navigation Company said yesterday.

Company officials said advice from London did not say how the 1,865-ton craft was sunk, but that it was assumed she was the victim of Nazi planes. The captain and the crew were rescued.

Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd., 30c, payable August 24 to share holders of record July 31.

SCARECROW—This tin-can "scarecrow" works wonders in the fields of John Day, near Salinas, Calif., scaring off crows and other birds from his lettuce crops. Tin cans are suspended from crossbars, which revolve in the breeze.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trading closed on a duller tone on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, with wheat futures prices still at their peggled minimums of 71½ cents a bushel for July wheat, 73½ for October and 74½ for December.

A brief flurry shortly after the opening this morning had provided the only real activity in the wheat pit in weeks, with some 650,000 bushels being traded for export in July and October futures.

Chicago market was a cent higher before the close. Buenos Aires was ½ cent lower at noon.

In the coarse grain pit rice advanced 1½ cents. There was some domestic and mill support for oats.

Traders were showing slight demand for No. 2 northern and lower grades in the cash grain pit.

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn led a strong rally in grain prices today, scoring a gain of almost 4c a bushel at one stage.

Although latest official reports indicated corn was progressing favorably in most sections of the belt, recent private reports have told of firing, tasseling on short stalks and withering leaves. Need of general widespread soaking rains in addition to local showers, recently prevalent over most of the belt was stressed.

Corn closed 1½ to 1½ higher than yesterday, September 62 to 62½, December 58½ to 59½, wheat, 1½ to 1½ up, September 74½ to 75½, December 76½ to 77½.

Government Helps Salmon Past Dams

While salmon are in the ocean, they usually do not go more than 40 or 50 miles away from the mouth of the river by which they entered. This is a general rule. Salmon have been caught from 200 to 500 miles out to sea!

Sooner or later, a salmon goes back to fresh water. Most often it returns to the river in which it was hatched. Reaching fresh water, it starts upstream.

Salmon going upstream.

The fish eats little if anything in the river. Its body contains a store of fat, and this serves to supply food during the weeks or months it is on the way.

A waterfall in the river may be in the way of the salmon, but it has fine-leaping power. It can jump six or seven feet high, to get over a waterfall.

Many rivers have cascades, which rise in a river bed, one after another. Reaching a cascade, the salmon may make jump after jump until it reaches the top. Then it goes on with its upstream journey.

When salmon rivers are dammed, the government takes special steps. "Fish ladders," which are stairways of a sort, may be provided, or the salmon may be taken out of the river in nets and then transported by trucks to a point above the dam.

It is ever so important to help salmon get past the dam. Otherwise the next year's hatch would be spoiled, and the salmon industry would suffer a blow.

Journeys of great length are made by some salmon. Those which go up the Yukon River often travel a distance of more than 2,000 miles.

In the spawning waters, male salmon do a great deal of fighting. They keep up the struggle for hours, and sometimes are killed.

After the eggs are laid at the headwaters of a river, the salmon start back to the ocean. Do they reach salt water safely? We shall take up that question tomorrow.

HOROSCOPE

Thursday, July 25
After a routine morning it is wise to push important matters in the later hours. Merchants and manufacturers should make much of this planetary government. The urge to achieve should be strong among engineers, builders and mechanical experts. This is a day for routine matters of the household, when the preservation of foodstuffs should engross attention. Informal social entertainments are well directed, but romance will not flourish. Young men may be preoccupied with personal plans that do not include marriage. Money should be contributed to funds for the aid of war-victims. Careless spending for amusement should be curtailed. Mining will be fortunate for some time. Little-known metals will be needed in the manufacture of certain products. Chemists are to be much encouraged in research work. Because the world is under the

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married 11 years and have one daughter. My husband makes a small salary and in order to help meet expenses I, too, work. After being away from my little girl all day I feel that my place is at home with her at night. My husband, however, has friends who have poker games at their homes several times a week. These include drinking and much familiarity between the men and women, and my husband comes home from them between 4 and 5 in the morning, drunk. These people insist that I, too, should play poker with them, visit beer joints and gambling houses, but I refuse to do so, not only on my own account, but because of the influence it would have on my little girl. Am I right in devoting myself to her and maintaining my own self-respect? Should I go with my husband or simply let him go his way and stick to mine? W.B.C.

ANSWER: Stick to your own way. Your first duty is to your child. You can do nothing to stop your husband. If he likes drinking and carousing and loose company your palling up with him would only encourage him in his evil ways. But you can do everything for your little girl by your example and teaching. You could not expect her to grow up into being a decent woman if she had both a father and mother who rolled home drunk from poker parties. DOROTHY DIX.

MORMONS SHOW THE WAY

To the Editor:—The Mormon people sometimes hold extra fasts in aid of different causes. They have held them for stricken peoples in other lands, and for their own now famous welfare or social security plan, which is making their unemployed and unemployable members self-supporting. Money was needed to get the plan started and some extra fasts proved most helpful.

Except with those who take their meals in hotels or restaurants, it is, of course, a little difficult to say exactly how much one saves by fasting. In the Mormon church the amount is left entirely to the judgment (and conscience) of the individual household. Also, fasting is optional with the member.

If only half the people of Canada adopted the Mormon custom of fasting and gave the money saved to the Red Cross, what a big sum could be raised in a 12-month period without hurting anyone and with actual physical benefit to many. Fast-day contributions could be collected by the different churches from their members, by fraternal organizations, and other groups, or where families are not associated with either church, fraternal organizations or any other organization, they could pay their fast-offerings to a collector appointed by the Red Cross in their neighborhood, or take it to the Red Cross office themselves. I would be glad to fast once a month for the Red Cross if this fine organization should start a fast-day fund in Victoria.

LIQUOR AS AID TO WIN THE WAR

To the Editor:—The tightening tension of the war and the knowledge of how weak a case they hold is filling the liquor interests of Canada with apprehension. Consequently, friendly columnists and other spokesmen are becoming vocal. Please featuring the great value of the liquor trade to labor, to the farmer, to allied trades and to the government tax collector are urged with almost tearful unctious. Scorn is being emptied on the head of the prohibition scarecrow, and the dyes are even blamed for depriving the ladies of their seats in the street cars.

The crisis to which we are come surely makes the nation's need paramount.

The question of the national value of the liquor trade to the nation was discussed in cold blood and in the tolerance of peacetime before the Royal Commission on Licensing in England in 1930. Josiah Stamp, probably the greatest statistician and financial adviser in the Anglo-Saxon world, was giving testimony. He had discussed with the commission national efficiency, effects on employment, and came to the question of the contributions of liquor to the national revenue.

Touching this aspect, Rev. Henry Carter, a member of the commission, put the following carefully-worded inquiry to Sir Josiah:

"Taking the liquor trade as it exists today, having regard to the fact that its operations bring a large revenue to the national exchequer, and also that a very large consumption of alcoholic beverages is the necessary basis of this tax yield, what would be your judgment on balance, as to the national value of things as they are? Do they represent a good bargain for the nation?"

Sir Josiah's answer, was definite and emphatic, and since he later discussed the moral aspects of the problem, it is clear that he was answering the question on its dollar-and-cents basis. His reply was: "No, a very bad bargain—the great expenditure on alcohol is a very bad investment."

War does not alter the facts. It can only magnify the importance of economic waste and impairment.

OUT OF PLACE

To the Editor:—I wish to commend your article regarding a couple of men speaking out of place. I refer to the Conant and Ferguson utterances. I have lived in the States for 20 years and know what kind of reaction that kind of talk has. When I am home I take the Oregon Journal, published in Portland, always Liberal and opposed to the aggressors, and a supporter of Roosevelt. The reaction to the Conant speech was bad. We want to see Roosevelt elected and have no doubt he will be. There are plenty of Republicans in the States to tell the people that Roosevelt is trying to get them into war without these boys from Ontario telling it to them.

SUNDAY MOVIES TO WIN THE WAR

To the Editor:—I was shocked to read in the Toronto Globe and Mail an editorial favoring Sunday movies in Canada as a means of raising funds to provide comforts for our men in order to win the war. I cannot follow the reasoning which concludes that to attain good, evil must be done, and I feel that Sunday motion picture entertainment is a thing not to be thought of by a people facing a great struggle with the forces of evil. There is great concern by high-principled men in our country lest we should be unworthy of victory in this war, and I believe that they would deplore Sunday motion pictures as a step towards such unworthiness.

POWER OF MONEY

mankind out of the mess it is in. Let us return to the teachings of Christ and seek the guidance of God in silent and earnest prayer. It is our only salvation. We, the youth of Canada, have had the sins of our ancestors visited upon us but let us not let these same sins envelop us and let us not be instruments for visiting our sins upon our children and their children. This is our great responsibility to our children and to future humanity.

It is the power of money that has played into the hands of the radical labor groups in the hands of Nazi and Communist agents. Take away the power of money by giving our government perfect control of it for the purposes of production and distribution and the insurance companies, stock exchanges and profit bankers will go out of existence and the Nazi agents will have no power in money. They will have no power to sway our underprivileged workers for it will be the duty of the government to provide adequately for all men working for the good of humanity.

CRISIS IN THE FAR EAST

To the Editor:—Though China is far from conquered after nine years of cruel massacre and large territorial losses, she would, if Britain yields to Japan and closes the Burma Road as she closed the borders of Spain in the embargo, be probably quickly reduced to subjection. Japan's 1,500,000 soldiers would then be free (that is, if the United States refused to take a hand) to fall on Hongkong, Shanghai and the French and Dutch colonies with enormous resources in oil, rubber, tin, nickel and sugar.

Britain, a writer in the current Nation points out, locked in the struggle with Germany, is ready to give in to Japan, if the United States doesn't stand by, and then the Philippines would be in danger as well as great sources of raw material.

America's appeal to Britain in 1931 failed. Now the appeal is to America and made by an American writer.

In reply to those Americans who say the French, Dutch and British possessions are no concern of the States, the writer goes on: "In just such a manner the British Tories convinced themselves that the fate of Spain and Czechoslovakia was no concern of theirs." He points out that, though some groups in the United States are still in favor of appeasement, Japan, like Hitler, could once upon a time have easily been stopped. In the case of Japan, economic pressure could have done the trick itself. There was no need of war. He then urges that the risks of bold action are far less than those of inaction.

He concludes that failure to act now may mean far more than defeat and slavery for China. It will involve a great increase of strength for the tyrants of the east, just as British policy long helped and forwarded the power of the tyrants of the west. America, too, must make a stand. Britain has already been forced to do so.

America's material help to Britain in Europe could best be expended in the Chinese war in Asia. Germany and Japan are of the same stripe, both ruthless enemies of democratic freedom. The interests of the two democratic powers are parallel; any thing that checks the aggression of the tyrants anywhere is all to the good for each of the great democracies.

Ottawa Speeds Registration Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—Registrars across Canada are being instructed to be ready to take the national registration on August 19, 20 and 21, Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, deputy minister of the national war services department, said today, but these dates are only provisional and will likely be changed.

He said provision was being made so a swing could be made easily, and that the dates had been issued to registrars only to get the machinery in working order. He expected Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of War Services, would announce definite dates in the House of Commons on Friday.

The questionnaire for registration will remain in its announced form, a government source indicated today. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen appealed in the Senate last night that the government simplify it, but it was learned most of the forms have been printed and it would not be practical to alter them now.

Registration will be held on 19 for women, with numerous subdivisions.

Men at sea during the three-day registration will report at their local post offices when they reach home.

The scheme provides that a person unable to register in his home town may do so wherever he may be.

Strasser, Grynszpan In German Hands

BERLIN (AP)—Otto Strasser, exiled foe of Nazism, who is charged by the Gestapo with organizing the Munich bomb plot on the life of Hitler, and Herschel Grynszpan, a young Polish Jew, who killed a member of the German embassy staff in Paris, were reported today to have fallen into German hands.

A German source said Grynszpan was found in La Sante prison in Paris, where he had been held pending trial for the death of Ernst von Rath, a secretary of the German embassy there.

Grynszpan now is held for trial by German authorities on a charge of murdering von Rath, this source said. Von Rath was shot November 7, 1938, by Grynszpan, then 17 years old, and died two days later.

Strasser was deprived of German citizenship in March, 1934, and thereafter his anti-Nazi Black Front organ, "Deutsche Revolution," appeared secretly in Berlin.

Dodged Nazi Bombers

After days on refugee-crowded roads and trains of France, Mrs. Edgar Fawcett and her daughter, Betty, shown above, are back in Victoria, safe from the threat of Nazi bombers, with the memory of harrowing experiences in war-torn Europe they can never forget.

One night in rural France Mrs. Fawcett and her daughter tried to sleep under an apple tree, while German planes dropped whining bombs and French searchlights lit up the sky. For 24 hours they stood in the closely packed corridor of a French train, they didn't know exactly where they were going, they were without food, except some bread and a raw egg each, for three days. All their belongings they were forced to leave in Paris.

And yet they looked remarkably fresh when they arrived home. They talked cheerfully of their experiences and evidently took the good with the bad. They were sorry to have lost their personal belongings, but are not grumbling, considering how many people were much worse off.

LUCKY

"But those days we spent reaching the French coast," Mrs. Fawcett said, "I shall never forget them. That train—we were jammed in with hundreds of refugees, their dogs and crying babies—the smells were awful. But we were lucky to get through at all."

Mrs. Fawcett and her daughter left Victoria in the autumn of 1938. They went directly to Paris, where Betty commenced voice study under a famous Italian maestro, Dardo Hicardes Miglar. They were there when war broke out, and remained the winter. Early this spring they went to Rome, with the maestro, who was preparing Betty for her debut in concert.

"Anti-British feeling was running high and hoodlums on the streets would shout at us if they heard us speaking English," Mrs. Fawcett said. "We were advised by the British consul to leave, and we returned to Paris."

Before they did so they saw prompted students marching through the streets with a Union Jack wrapped around a coffin, with an umbrella, evidently in reference to Neville Chamberlain, and Nazi and Italian flags flying proudly over the strange and insulting cortege.

CONFIDENT

The Germans were in France when the Fawcetts reached Paris, but no one was excited; the populace was sure the capital would never fall. Cafes were open, life seemed to be going on as usual. After a month, however, things changed, tension grew, everyone was nervous.

Mrs. Fawcett's nephew, Alfred E. Carter, a former Victoria boy, who was studying at the Sorbonne, went home one night and advised his aunt to leave.

"So next morning we started," Mrs. Fawcett said. "We weren't sure where—perhaps to the sea-side until the Germans were beaten out of France, for that is what everyone thought, and they were sure it wouldn't take long. We took the subway and went five miles out into the country."

The roads were jammed with people and cars so many cars at times they just couldn't move. So we started to walk. It was the only thing to do. By evening we were pretty hungry and there was no place to stay.

GAVE UP

"At dusk we tried to get a little sleep under an apple tree, but at midnight, when it started to rain heavily, we gave up and started to walk again. In the morning we managed to get aboard a train by slipping past the guard when he wasn't looking. At one place we got two big loaves of bread and later had a raw egg each. Fortunately I had a little brandy with us, and that was all that saved us."

"At one place my nephew was taken for a German parachutist. A French civilian held him up, saying his typewriter was an infernal machine. That was unpleasant, but eventually some French soldiers released him."

"The French peasants were panic-stricken. Some of the older women went mad—they frothed at the mouth and had to be taken from the trains. Once or twice I thought I was going mad—in one station, pitch dark, people were almost speaking over me."

"We were all like cattle," Miss Fawcett added. "And all the while the planes were overhead."

Both Miss Fawcett and her mother said they saw no refugees bombed, although there were dozens of German bombers overhead. They were so low the Swastikas could be plainly seen.

At St. Malo, where they had their first night's rest, the Fawcetts were given half an hour to board a cross-Channel steamer, but it turned out to be only a ferry, going to the Channel Islands. At Jersey they were transferred to another ship and finally reached Southampton.

Young Carter remained in France, because he wouldn't leave a Polish friend, who found it difficult to obtain an English visa. A few days later, however, both reached London.

WARDROBE LOST

In the trunks they left in their Paris hotel were Mrs. Fawcett's typewriter and telegraphist's outfit and Miss Fawcett's Paris wardrobe, in which she was to make her Rome debut and many valuable musical scores.

"An awful lot of careers have been broken up by this war," sadly commented vivacious, pretty Miss Fawcett, whose father was a victim of the 1914-18 war and whose grandfather was Edgar Fawcett, well-known pioneer author of Victoria.

At present they are staying with Mrs. Fawcett's mother, Mrs. E. A. Carter, 910 Fairfield Road.
